NEW BEACON STREET BRIDGE ADDS TO BEAUTY OF SECTION BY ITS LINES.

STRUCTURE JUST COMPLETED AND OPENED FOR TRAFFIC
ANOTHER CREDITABLE EFFORT ON THE PART OF MAYOR CURLEY'S ADMINISTRATION.

NEW BEACON STREET BRIDGE MAKES ATTRACTIVE WAY FOR TRAFFIC
AND PROVIDES MORE ROOM FOR PASSING TRAVEL—NOW OPEN TO PUBLIC.

Mayor Curley and the Public Works Department have just completed another important traffic link for the City of Boston with the opening of the new Beacon Street Bridge to the public. The structure has been erected at a cost of $107,000 and is one of the finest of its type to be seen anywhere.

The Beacon Street Bridge (over the Boston & Albany Railroad) consists of three main girders carrying a steel floor, incased in concrete.

It provides two roadways, each about 33 feet wide between girders, and two sidewalks each 12 feet wide. It was designed to carry two lines of electric cars with heavy truck loads. The weight of steel in the bridge is approximately 450 tons. The surface is granite block and the sidewalks are of granolithic.

This structure affords a great deal more roadway and sidewalk capacity than the structure it replaces, which consisted of four trusses with three roadways, and the space taken up by water and gas pipes occupied about 16 or 17 feet in width of the roadway. The water pipes are now below the railroad tracks and their removal, together with the elimination of one truss, affords a very increased capacity for vehicles.

The total length of the bridge is about 110 feet and the width about 100 feet.

MAYOR STARTS DEFENCE OF PUBLIC AGAINST ATTEMPT OF PHONE COMPANY TO JUMP RATES.

The Public Utilities Commission are to hold a hearing on April 23 upon the question of increasing the telephone rate on suburban toll calls and private branch exchanges. These rates, if allowed, will in all probability represent an increased annual charge to the business men of Boston of not less than a half-million dollars.

The Mayor has instructed the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston to appear before the commission and oppose the request for increased rates on the grounds that the public should not be penalized to offset the deficit of the Telephone Company resulting from the recent strike, which was called not for the purpose of serving the public interest, but for the purpose of destroying the power of organized labor.

When the average individual makes a mistake he is obliged to sustain the loss for which he is responsible. The rule which applies in the case of the average citizen should apply with even greater force in the case of a public service corporation, and if the Telephone Company finds that its profits have been restricted as a consequence of the increased cost of operation resulting from the strike, for which the Telephone Company was largely if not fully responsible, it should be reflected in a reduction in the annual dividend rate on the stock of the company rather than by a further gouge of the public through an increase as proposed.

MAYOR AND OFFICIALS PLAN STEPS TO CLEAR CITY STREETS OF RUBBISH.

A conference was held at the office of the Mayor on April 16, at which were present the Police Commissioner, Hon. Herbert A. Wilson; the Public Works Commissioner, Mr. Joseph A. Rourke, and the Corporation Counsel, Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, and steps were taken to prevent the littering of the streets with combustible waste and other matter, both as a health and fire protection.

The Public Works Commissioner agreed to provide all boxes that may be required, located at convenient points in every section of the city, in which persons might deposit newspapers, periodicals or other materials that it is now customary for an individual to throw into the street.

The Public Works Commissioner further agreed to notify all storekeepers that the ordinance prohibiting the littering of streets would be rigidly enforced.

The Police Commissioner agreed to direct the Police Department to enforce the ordinance with reference to littering of streets in the same manner that the ordinance with reference to expectorating on the streets has been enforced in the past.

It is believed that provided the public will co-operate in the manner in which they should that Boston streets can be made a model in the matter of cleanliness for all cities in America.

BOSTON, April 11, 1924.

To the Honorable the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—In connection with the proposed contracts for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps in the City of Boston, now before your honorable body, the Finance Commission has recently had conferences with officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

As a result of these conferences a study has been undertaken by the engineers of the Edison Company to determine the possibilities of a change from gas lighting to electric lighting, either in whole or in part, in the territory now lighted by gas lamps.

The Finance Commission expects to receive from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in due time definite information regarding the exact number of gas lamps that it is at present feasible to replace with electric lamps, the cost of such replacement, and the terms under which the Edison Company will undertake the extension of its street lighting system.

The Finance Commission respectfully requests that your honorable body withhold action upon the proposed contract until information is received from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and transmitted to you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

NOTED GUEST FOR MOTHER'S DAY.

Mayor Curley was especially gratified to receive from Miss Anna Jarvis an acceptance of his invitation that she may be the guest of the City of Boston on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 11, 1924, at ceremonies at the Parkman Bandstand on Boston Common, in honor of this noteworthy event, under the auspices of the Volunteers of America, and directed by Mrs. Walter Duncan.

Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia is one of the most noteworthy women in the United States, idolized in Philadelphia, and is the founder of the observance of the second Sunday of May in each year in honor of the mothers of the land, or, as Miss Jarvis has beautifully put it, the ceremonies of "Mother's Day" are in honor of the best mother who ever lived—the mother of your heart.

STREET LOCATIONS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the orders of the Board of Street Commissioners, as follows:

That the location, direction, width and grade of the private way, at West Roxbury, designated as East Hastings court, leading from Hastings street for a distance of about 127 feet southwesterly, as shown on a plan approved in writing by the Board of Street Commissioners, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be and the same hereby are approved.

That the location, direction, width and grade of the private way, at West Roxbury, designated as Alhambra road, from Willow street to Maple street, as shown on a plan approved in writing by this Board, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be and the same hereby are approved.

MAYOR BEGINS ACTION IN EFFORT TO GET BRIGHAM HOSPITAL'S USE FOR ORIGINAL PURPOSES.

ADDRESSES MESSAGE TO CITY COUNCIL CALLING ATTENTION TO CONDITIONS BELIEVED NOT IN KEEPING WITH WILL AND INTEREST OF TESTATOR AND NOT FOR BENEFIT OF CITY'S INCURABLES AND POOR.

Mayor Curley sent the following message to the City Council on April 14:

To the Honorable City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—It has been called to my attention that the officers of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables, organized and carried on under the provisions of the will of the late Robert Breck Brigham, have not been using and applying the funds of the estate of the said Robert Breck Brigham and have not been carrying on the hospital known as the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables in accordance with the request and intent of the said Robert Breck Brigham, as contained in his last will.

By the provisions of the will of the said Robert Breck Brigham a corporation was to be organized for the following public charity:

"For the purpose of maintaining an institution for the care and support and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without necessary means of support and are incapable of obtaining a comfortable livelihood by reason of chronic or incurable disease or permanent physical disability."

I am informed that the corporation and its officers are applying and using the income for other purposes inconsistent with and not in keeping with the terms and provisions of the will and are using the funds and the hospital for the treatment of persons who are not suffering from incurable disease or permanent disability; are maintaining the hospital more for the accommodation of the rich and well-to-do rather than for the city's poor, destitute and chronic sick; and that many of the beds in the hospital are used by people of large means who are recommended to the hospital by staff physicians.

I am further informed that no attempt has been made by the officers of the hospital to carry out the intent of the late Robert Breck Brigham to establish a hospital for the city's destitute and chronic sick who are suffering from incurable diseases or permanent disability.

Any steps to relieve the situation must be taken under the law by the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, and I, therefore, recommend that your honorable body pass the inclosed order so that I may, on behalf of the city government, bring the matter to the attention of the Attorney-General and procure the necessary relief in the premises.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON, IN CITY COUNCIL.

Whereas, It has been called to the attention of the City Council of the City of Boston that the officers of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables have been misusing and misapplying the funds of the estate of the late Robert Breck Brigham in connection with the hospital established by the trustees under the will of the said late Robert Breck Brigham, said hospital being known as the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables; and

Whereas, The City Council is informed that the said officers of said Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables have not been carrying on the public charity provided for by the terms of the will of the said late Robert Breck Brigham, namely,—

"For the purpose of maintaining an institution for the care and support and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without the necessary means of support and are incapable of obtaining a comfortable livelihood by reason of chronic or incurable disease or permanent physical disability."

Now Therefore be it Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, for and on behalf of the city government of Boston, request the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to bring an information in equity in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts for the purpose of procuring the proper execution of the public charity directed to be established under the will of the said Robert Breck Brigham, and for the purpose of restraining said corporation and its officers from misusing and misapplying the funds of the estate of said Robert Breck Brigham and the property of the said Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables, and for such other purposes as may be necessary in the premises for the proper carrying out of the public charity mentioned aforesaid.

Worcester & Co. to do the work, and the City Auditor states that this is not included in their contract for architectural services and that your approval should be obtained for this work to be done.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 15 the Mayor approved a contract with the John Bowen Company for repairs to the Bennett School, Brighton district. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn of the Schoolhouse Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 10, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners respectfully requests the approval of your Honor, under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909, to awarding a contract, without advertising, to John Bowen Company, 184 Dudley street, for repairs to the Bennett School, Brighton district, the cost of said work to exceed the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars.

The reason for making this request is as follows: On April 8 a fire occurred in this school, which gutted the building above the second story and caused considerable damage to the lower stories on account of water. In order to have the building ready for occupancy at the re-opening of school in September, it is necessary to begin the work immediately, and the Board has therefore made arrangements to this end. As the cost of repairs will be largely in excess of one thousand (1,000) dollars, the Board requests the approval of your Honor to making contract as above.

PATRIOTS' DAY CELEBRATION.

The Citizens' Public Celebrations Association of Boston, in co-operation with the city director of public celebrations and committees appointed by the mayors and selectmen of nearby communities, added several new features for the joint observance of Patriots' Day, Saturday.

As the principal part of the celebration program, riders representing Paul Revere and William Dawes, Jr., reproduced the historic rides of these two revolutionary messengers from Boston to Lexington. "Revere" started from the old Revere home in North square, while "Dawes" started from John Eliot square, Roxbury.

While the rider impersonating Paul Revere was passing through Medford, a member of the Patriots' Day committee in that city broadcasted a message by radio from Station WGI, Medford Hill-side. A squadron of airplanes piloted by aviators of the Massachusetts National Guard flew over the routes of both riders.

The celebration officially opened in Boston with a flag raising at City Hall at 9 a. m. Mayor Curley, Chairman, Merle R. Griffith of the local committee and J. Philip O'Connell, Director of Public Celebrations in Boston, performed this ceremony. A battalion of sailors and marines from the Boston Navy Yard and a detachment of the Lexington Minute Men in Continental uniform also participated.

From City Hall, the participants marched through School and Tremont streets, Scollay square to Hanover street, where they met the rider impersonating Paul Revere. The parade then proceeded to North square, where patriotic exercises were conducted preceding the departure of the rider for Lexington at 10 o'clock.

Before "Dawes" started on his ride from Eliot square, there was a patriotic program in which the American Legion, Grand Army, Roxbury Historical Society, Women's Club, Norfolk House Center and school children took part. The rider started at 10 o'clock and journeyed through Brookline, Cambridge, Arlington and Lexington. In each of these places there were patriotic exercises on his arrival.

Arlington introduced a new feature in the observance of the holiday. A parade of military and patriotic organizations formed in morning at the Senior High School and marched to local spots famed in revolutionary history, including the graves of revolutionary heroes, which were decorated by members of the D. A. R. At noon the riders from Boston were greeted with exercises at the town hall.

In Lexington there were the customary observance of the day, including a parade and a reception at 12:40 p. m. on the historic Battle Green to "Revere" and "Dawes."

NEW DIGEST ON CITY HEALTH LAW IS ISSUED.

The Boston Health Department, under direction of the Mayor, has just issued a 344-page digest of health laws, comprising the statutes, special legislation affecting the city, rules and regulations of the local health authorities and pertinent Boston ordinances. It is the first such manual published in twenty years and the tenth since 1801.

It contains all health legislation, reference notations and court decisions which are in effect at the present time in Boston and Massachusetts. To make the work a complete and exact copy of the laws and regulations it was necessary to search every annual report since the Health Department was organized and scrutinize carefully every record book containing the official minutes of the meetings of the Board of Health and Health Department, as well as to examine the various sources of legislative authority for health administration.

The work of collecting and compiling the data contained in the digest has been carried on for several years by the regular staff of the Health Department at no additional expense to the department. The actual publication, which cost about $3,000, was provided for by an appropriation obtained in 1923. The book will be sold to other than officials of governmental agencies, to whom it will be distributed free, at $2 a copy, to help defray the cost of printing and binding.

The volume contains a preface by Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney and by his secretary, Stephen L. Maloney, under whose supervision the work was compiled. The book is divided into five parts, each a separate digest in itself, in that the laws and regulations, for instance, affecting food and food establishments are in one part, so that it is an easy matter for anyone to find, with the aid of the index to chapters at the beginning of each part, any of the laws or regulations for which he may be searching. The divisions are Part I., The Health Commissioner; Part II., Medical Inspection; Part III., Vital Statistics, Burial Records and Interments; Part IV., Sanitary Inspection, Part V., Food Inspection.

Each section in each chapter contains complete marginal notations showing previous enactments and references to Supreme Court decisions. Where elucidation seemed necessary supplementary notes or cross references are indicated.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

The Mayor has approved the following order passed by the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That in the matter of Fred H. Plouff, petitioner for damages for the taking of an easement for sewerage purposes in 2,399 square feet of land on River street, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of August 5, 1921, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of $500 and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

EMPLOYMENT OF ACTUARY IN CONNECTION WITH PENSION LEGISLATION.

A communication was received from the Business Agent under date of March 17, 1924, reporting that under existing law the Board is required to appropriate 7c. upon each $1,000 of the valuation of the City for the payment of pensions to members of the teaching or supervising staff of the Public Schools of the City, who entered the service prior to February 1, 1923 and who have not become members of the Boston Retirement System under the provisions of Chapter 521 of the Acts of 1922, and to persons who are annuitants of the Boston Teachers' Retirement Fund at the time when Chapter 589 of the Acts of 1903 took effect, and to other teachers who had retired prior to said time.

As none of the teachers entering the service on or subsequent to February 1, 1923 come under the provisions of these Laws, the group of persons entitled to pension under these Laws is a constantly diminishing one and in the course of time the appropriations necessary will become smaller and smaller.

On the other hand, on account of the increase in valuation, unless the Law is amended the appropriations by the School Committee will increase proportionately.

It would, therefore, appear wise for the School Committee to petition the Legislature for an amendment to the existing Law to the end that the School Committee shall be relieved from the existing mandatory provision which requires it to make an annual appropriation of 7c. on each $1,000 of the valuation of the City, and to substitute therefor, some provision for making the appropriations necessary to meet the cost of pensions under existing conditions.

It also appears necessary that the Board be furnished with accurate information as to the funds necessary to meet the cost of pensions under the existing conditions.

The Business Agent recommends that a competent actuary be employed for the purpose of furnishing such information, in order that the School Committee may have all the facts necessary in support of any action by the Legislature for which it may petition.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Chairman of the School Committee is hereby authorized to employ an actuary at a cost not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500), for the purpose of advising this Board on pension matters.

CHIEF ATTENDANCE OFFICER.

A communication was received from the Executive Secretary, Division of Civil Service and Registration, under date of April 1, 1924, reporting that the Commissioner of Civil Service has considered the letter of the Secretary, under date of March 25, 1924, enclosing a copy of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel of Boston relative to the position of Chief Attendance Officer in the Boston School Department, that the Commissioner is still of the opinion that an appointment to this position is a promotion within the department and is, therefore, within the jurisdiction of the Civil Service law, as with all other promotions, and that the Committee will understand that requisition should be made in the regular manner.

Placed on file.

The following preamble and resolve were presented:

WHEREAS this Committee has duly determined by regular election the appointment of one Joseph W. Hobbs to the position of Chief Attendance Officer; and

WHEREAS the Civil Service Commission has ruled that the said appointment is illegal because it was not effected by examination; and

WHEREAS the said Civil Service Commission has never heretofore qualified appointment to the said position by examination; and

WHEREAS the said Civil Service Commission in 1914 by letter confirmed this Committee's right to effect appointment to said position by election; and

WHEREAS such appointment was effected in 1914 as stated above with the knowledge and consent of the said Civil Service Commission; and

WHEREAS this Committee is of the conviction that the Civil Service action in 1914 confirming this Committee's right to effect such appointment by election constitutes an admission and is in effect a ruling by the said Civil Service Commission that it is not practicable to regulate appointment to the said position by examination; and

WHEREAS the opinion of the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston submitted to this Committee March 17, 1924, sustains the said appointment to the position of Chief Attendance Officer by the election of this Committee, and

WHEREAS the said Civil Service Commission in a communication dated April 1, 1924, to this Committee refused to recognize the Corporation Counsel's opinion;

NOW THEREFORE be it Ordered that this Committee request the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston to sustain the said appointment to the position of Chief Attendance Officer by appeal to the Courts on the theory that said action of the Civil Service Commission in declaring the said appointment illegal is an unwarranted interference and intrusion without basis in law or fact, and an unjustifiable invasion of the inherent right of this Committee.

The preamble and resolve were adopted, Miss Curtis voting in the negative.

TO SAVE CITY LIGHTING.

Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, has sent the following communication to the Mayor:

BOSTON, April 11, 1924.

To His Honor the Mayor:

There may be some question about the rights of the city to extend the contract for the actual work of lighting, extinguishing and furnishing the equipment for street gas lighting for six months subsequent to its termination on April 1, 1924, but the Boston Consolidated Gas Company have been officially requested in letter written on December 31 to extend their contract for the six months.

The furnishing of illuminating gas, however, for this street lighting expired on April 1, 1924, with no provision for extension; and pending consideration by the Council of the new contract this department is in a position of receiving gas with no provision for legal payment therefor after April 1, 1924.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract to furnish illuminating gas in all parts of the city, excepting Hyde Park, for not exceeding three months, starting with April 1, 1924, at a price per gas lamp per year of $11, the rate proposed for the new contract, and monthly payments made the companies based on this yearly rate.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC CONTROL OF BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY.

By Chapter 159, Special Acts of 1918, a State board of five trustees was created to assume control of the Elevated Railway Co. for the term of 10 years, the need being imperative to improve its unfortunate condition and impaired service in the interest of a very large traveling public. Regular dividends were continued and the raising of $3,000,000 of new capital was provided for by the issue and sale of preferred stock. It was also provided that if the income should be insufficient to meet the cost of service and the reserve fund proved inadequate, any deficit should be paid by the State and assessed upon the cities and towns in which the railway was operated. The fare was raised from 5 cents to 7, then to 8 and again to 10. The total deficit for year ending June 30, 1919, was $4,980,152, which was covered by extra taxation, as ordered, Boston paying $2,905,931 or 71.9 per cent of total levy. According to the said act of 1918, the cities and towns were to be reimbursed for assessments paid by them as soon as the financial condition of the Elevated Co. permitted.

By Chapter 369, General Acts of 1919, the purchase by the State from the Elevated Co. of the Cambridge Subway was ordered as an emergency law, the capital thus made available being needed by the trustees. The property was conveyed to the State May 1, 1920, on payment of $7,868,00 and 4½ per cent of this cost is payable by the B. E. Co. annually for rental.

The report of the Trustees of B. E. Railway Co. for year 1920 showed a notable financial improvement as compared with 1919, the cost of service exceeding receipts by $347,167 or only one-seventh of the deficit in 1919.

The Trustees' report for 1921 showed total receipts for that year of $33,277,026, exceeding the total cost of service, depreciation, debt requirements and dividends by $1,171,445. This surplus permitted certain reimbursements in 1922, Boston receiving $372,035 or 12.8 per cent of the assessment paid in 1919. Under the act of 1918, the general 10-cent fare cannot be reduced until all reimbursements are completed. On June 10, 1922, the consolidation of the West End Street Railway Co. with the Boston Elevated Co. went into effect, as provided by Acts of 1911, Chap. 740, the lease to the Elevated not expiring until the said date.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of 50 or 60 persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about 400 persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a Governor and Council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident Governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on Oct. 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as Governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following, and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as Governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott 15 years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving 12 years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed 82 years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows: Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

Chosen in 1905—John Quincy Adams, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier—total, 3.

Chosen in 1910—Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, George Bancroft, John Lothrop Motley, Phillips Brooks—total, 5.

Chosen in 1915—Louis Agassiz, Francis Parkman, Rufus Choate, Charlotte Cushman—total, 4.

Chosen in 1920—William Thomas Green Morton, Alice Freeman Palmer. Five additional names every fifth year are to be selected and inscribed until the year 2,000, when the 150 tablets in the colonnade will be complete.

If those who were natives or residents elsewhere in the State are added to the list, the following 7 names increase the total to 34 for Massachusetts or more than half the whole number, viz.: William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan Edwards, Mark Hopkins, Elias Howe, Eli Whitney, Maria Mitchell, Mary Lyon.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, viz.: Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1900 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for a 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations.

LIQUOR LICENSES AND NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

The national prohibition amendment (i. e., the 18th) to the Constitution, having been ratified by 45 States and becoming effective on January 16, 1920, the legalized trade in intoxicating liquors ceased then. It was supposed to stop about 6 months sooner because of the Federal war regulation providing for prohibition on July 1, 1919, to be effective until the army could be demobilized. But as there was no Massachusetts law forbidding the issuing of licenses after July 1, the Boston Licensing Board issued 702 such for the remainder of the license year with the proviso that the license was no protection against violation of Federal law. After July 1, under Federal law, the only liquor which licensees claimed the right to sell was beer and ale containing not over 2.75 per cent of alcohol. Sales of these lighter beverages continued to October 28, 1919, when Congress enacted a law (Volstead Act) forbidding the sale of any liquor as a beverage containing more than 0.50 per cent alcohol. The validity of this act being widely questioned, the United States Supreme Court upheld it on Jan. 5, 1920, and again on June 7, 1920. The result of this decision was that former applicants for liquor licenses did not apply for them in 1920. The Supreme Court of Mass. later in the year decided that the liquor laws of the State remain in force where not inconsistent with the Volstead Act. The Boston Board therefore issued 146 licenses to druggists and 17 4th-class, permitting sales for non-beverage purposes only. In 1921 there were issued 192 licenses to druggists, 15 4th-class and one 5th-class. On May 17, 1922, Chap. 427, Acts of 1922 (consisting of 27 sections) was approved, providing for the carrying into effect in Mass. of the 18th Federal (i. e., prohibition) amendment. This law is subject to a referendum at State election on November 7, 1922.

By Chapter 392, Acts of 1922, the retailing of non-intoxicating beverages is subjected to license, with fee of not more than one dollar for each year ending April 30.

PUBLIC STREETS IN BOSTON.

Total length of the 2,447 paved (accepted) streets, February 1, 1922, 606.33 miles; total area, 11,459,009 square yards, or 8.47 per cent of the City's total land area. This is exclusive of the private streets (not accepted), numbering about 2,890. 366.10 miles, or 60.38 per cent, are paved with macadam (including 128.03 miles bituminous macadam); 105.66 miles with granite block; 45.50 miles with asphalt; 29.32 miles with gravel; 36.63 miles with asphalt concrete (17.55 m. being bitulithic and 13.71 m. Topeka); 11.69 miles with wood block; 5.42 miles with brick. Old macadam pavement is gradually being replaced with more satisfactory and durable kinds, such as bitulithic, concrete, granite block, etc., $5,138,678 having been expended during the past four years in reconstructing and improving 313 miles of streets and parts of streets. Granolithic sidewalks laid in 1921, 97,049 square yards or about 21 miles, averaging 8 feet wide, 50 per cent of cost assessed on estates benefited.

New highway construction completed in period 1918-1921 includes 13 streets in Boston Proper; 34 in Dorchester; 37 in West Roxbury; 14 in Roxbury; 24 in Brighton; 6 in East Boston; 3 in Hyde Park; 4 in South Boston, and 1 in Charlestown, roadway pavement bitulithic, or asphalt surface on concrete, and bituminous macadam. Gross debt outstanding February 1, 1922, for all street construction, including damages, $22,267,141 or $925,700 more than in 1921, this increase due to new loan for Stuart St. construction.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

ENGINEERING HISTORY IN CITY OF BOSTON MADE WITH COMPLETION OF MAVERICK SQUARE TERMINAL.

BUILT PRACTICALLY BY UNEMPLOYED VETERAN LABOR, IT SERVED PURPOSE OF REHABILITATING CITIZENS AND ALSO SAVED MONEY IN ITS CONSTRUCTION—ANOTHER MONUMENT TO MAYOR CURLEY.

INTERIOR VIEW OF MAVERICK SQUARE TERMINAL, OPENED FOR TRAFFIC THIS WEEK—TO RELIEVE EAST BOSTON TUNNEL OF CONGESTION.

The opening of the Maverick Square Terminal of the East Boston Tunnel on April 21 completed one of the most interesting and complicated engineering projects in the history of rapid transit development.

The tunnel proper between Scollay square and Maverick square was completed in 1904, approximately ten years after its authorization by the Legislature and was the first subaqueous tunnel by street railway operation in the world. In 1916 it was extended to Cambridge street west of Bowdoin square, and this extension provided for a loop, thus eliminating the shifting of trolleys on a dead end track and allowing the use of trailer cars. In 1917 the tremendous increase in passenger traffic taxed the capacity of the operating units, and the Legislature authorized an extension at the East Boston terminus to relieve the intolerable congestion during rush hours.

As the signal system would not permit any additional units of operation, the only method of enlarging the facilities of the tunnel was by increasing the size of the units to four, six or eight car trains, restricting the operation of these trains to the tunnel by the construction of an underground loop in Maverick square. The convenient interchange of passengers underground on a one-level platform necessitated the construction also of a loop for surface cars entering the tunnel at the East Boston terminal.

An entrance and exit is provided for local passengers, in Maverick square at Sumner street, who may have occasion to board or leave trains without using surface cars. Emergency exits are provided at Lewis and Webster streets. The passenger entrance building at Maverick square was designed to harmonize with the splendid architectural features of the old Maverick House nearby, and is a distinct improvement to the esthetic appearance of the square.

STARTS MOVE TO RESTORE HOSPITAL.

MAYOR CURLEY FILES PETITION ASKING ATTORNEY-GENERAL BENTON TO MOVE TO RETURN BRIGHAM HOSPITAL TO PEOPLE.

Mayor Curley has presented to Attorney-General Benton his petition on behalf of the City of Boston that the Attorney-General bring an information in equity in the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth for the purpose of procuring an injunction restraining the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital and its officers from misusing and misapplying the funds of the Robert Breck Brigham Trust and for the purpose of procuring some suitable person to be appointed by the court to maintain and carry on said hospital; and further that an accounting be sought from said corporation and its officers of all moneys and assets received by the said corporation and its officers.

The Mayor's complaint is based upon the belief that Robert Breck Brigham intended by the terms of his will to establish an institution in the nature of a home for the care and support, and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without necessary means of support and are incapable of obtaining a comfortable livelihood by reason of chronic or incurable disease or permanent physical disability.

It is the Mayor's belief that in violation of this plain provision the Robert Breck Brigham is a hospital wherein acute cases are treated and experimental and research work is carried on for the benefit of an exclusive clique of doctors. It is a hospital de luxe for such patients as are recommended to it by private physicians. Robert Brigham meant to establish a home for poor incurables such as the City of Boston has established at Long Island. Mayor Curley hopes by his petition to the Attorney-General that this hospital can be forced to carry on the work contemplated by the Brigham will.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Construction Company have been allowed to amend contract for erecting and completing addition to the Julia Ward Howe School, Dale street, Roxbury, by striking out the words and figures, "December 15, 1923," on page 24, Section E, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "June 1, 1924," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said Section E on page 24 shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about April 15, 1923, and is to be completed on or before June 1, 1924."

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

TRIBUTES TO PRESIDENT ELIOT ON EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY.

The Boston Public Library is fortunate in being able to display, for the benefit of the citizens of Boston, the impressive collection of tributes offered to Charles William Eliot on his ninetieth birthday. The collection, which contains nearly 125 items, occupies the cases in the Exhibition Room, where it will be on view for a period of two weeks.

Perhaps the most prominent objects in the collection are the decorations conferred upon President Eliot by foreign governments. Of these there are six, the latest being the star and jewel of the Order of St. Sava, conferred by the King of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes in 1923, which is a beautiful example of goldsmith's work. Next in interest is the Japanese Imperial Order of the Rising Sun. This is a remarkable piece of enamel work, contained in a handsome box of gold lacquer. In addition to these there is the jewel of an officer of the Legion of Honor and Orders of the Crowns of Belgium, Italy and Prussia.

The written tributes are uniform in size, on beautiful parchment paper. Many of them are very handsomely illuminated. They convey to President Eliot the greetings of various groups and associations in different parts of the world which united to do him honor on his birthday. The first group contains the sentiments of the various faculties of Harvard University, in each case signed by the dean. Next, and perhaps even more interesting, is a series of sheets expressing the affection of representative groups of Harvard students. One, bearing twenty-four signatures, contains the names of the managers of all the athletic teams of the university, the editors of the college papers and the presidents of made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

To THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

To THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

To THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

To THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

the leading college societies; others come from the students of the schools which compose the university.

The next group conveys the greetings of associations of scientists and educators, among them the General Education Board, the National Academy of Sciences, the Massachusetts Historical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Academy in Rome.

Next in order comes a dignified procession of tributes from the leading colleges and universities of the country, signed in each case by the president. Beyond these march the sheets bearing the greetings of Harvard Clubs all over the world.

No one can walk past the cases in which the tributes are displayed without gaining a deep impression of the veneration and love with which Doctor Eliot is universally regarded.

Almost every sheet contains at least one sentence worth quoting. The following is the six-line stanza received from the American Institute of Arts and Letters:

TO CHARLES W. ELIOT, AT NINETY.
Great soul, "serene," "adventurous,"
Your calm and courage censure us
Who fret or fear or shun the strife.
May you live out your century
Of tranquil, brave adventure.
Teaching us how to live a life.

On the walls of the room in which the collection is displayed is hung, in addition to a fine portrait of Doctor Eliot and photographs showing all the buildings of the university as they were during his term of office, the address of the Board of Overseers of Harvard University, "To Charles William Eliot, in loyal and affectionate greeting on his ninetieth birthday," inscribed in gold letters on a sheet of vellum.

CALLS UPON CATHOLICS TO PRESERVE RELIGION FROM MODERNISM'S BLAST.

MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS THRILLINGLY NOTABLE ADDRESS AT MEETING OF CATHOLIC UNION TO WELCOME CARDINAL O'CONNELL BACK TO ARCHDIOCESE.

Mayor James M. Curley made the following address at the exercises of welcome extended his Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell, at Catholic Union Hall, Tuesday evening, April 22:

In welcoming back to his home and duty our beloved moral and religious leader, his Eminence the Cardinal Archbishop of Boston, in hailing his return to the burdens, problems and responsibilities of his high office, I cannot help feeling that in view of the conditions of the hour that the immediate and urgent need of the Archdiocese of Boston is a trained, competent, loyal, fearless leadership among the Catholic laity to supplement the labors of him who by his courage, wisdom, constructive talent, diplomatic genius and fidelity to Catholic truth, tradition, precept and practice, has done so much to establish the place, strengthen the position and sustain prestige of the Catholic Church and people in New England.

What is true of Boston is true of every archdiocese and diocese of America; and only as we cultivate and develop a strong, self-respecting lay leadership can we expect to compel the respect of those outside the church, who have accepted and profess the colonial tradition that the ancient mother church and its believers are alien and negligible in America.

When we consider the moral decay, the religious indifference in America in this age, illustrated as they are in the attenuation of moral obligation in public and private life, in the repudiation of constitutional guaranties upon which rests the integrity and permanence of the republic; in the seeming condonation of this lawlessness by the indifference and timidity of those who ignore the responsibility imposed upon them by their position and influence in the community to rebuke these offenders and arrest their propaganda of intolerance and dissension—in consideration of these things and the threat they convey to the moral health, the religious liberty, the civic peace and political rights of America, there is an imperious necessity for a competent and courageous leadership among Catholic laymen, to uphold the hands and listen to the counsels of the acknowledged leaders of our church in America.

The safety and integrity, the rights and principles of our faith and church are constantly the targets at which irreligion and ignorance aim; there are certain fields of activity from which our religious leaders are barred by custom and choice; there are phases of controversy and conflict in which the church and its dignitaries cannot mingle without jeopardizing their dignity and honor; and in these forbidden areas the Catholic laymen find a useful field of activity.

It is a human trait to measure and advertise the merits of those we oppose by their least estimable elements; it is our duty to compel respect by the character and achievement of our best; and it should be our constant effort to see that the talent, accomplishment and fair fame of Catholics of standing and repute shall receive recognition in press and platform, in literary exploitation and in permanent historical record.

For neglect in these things we are largely to blame ourselves; it is difficult to expect honor and acclaim for the genius and work of Catholics with which we neglect to familiarize ourselves.

How many of us know the story of that heroic Catholic patriot, Hofer, the man of Tyrol, who successfully refused to submit to the legions of Napoleon and wear the conqueror's yoke?

Who among us is familiar with the work of Gabriel Garcia Moreno, President of Ecuador, who found his country in the hands of military adventurers, its churches desecrated, its faith derided, its people oppressed and plundered, and Ecuador given over to tyranny, irreligion and despair? A devout and earnest Catholic, Moreno devoted his life to the liberation of his country, the restoration of religion and the establishment of a government that honored faith, inculcated morality and made freedom the handmaid of faith and patriotism; and he succeeded in making Ecuador the realization of his ideals and aims. He worked upon his favorite motto, "Liberty for everyone and everything, save for evil and evil-doers."

We are fairly familiar with the character and work of Frederick Ozanam, the philanthropist and founder of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, but that is not enough; the honor and fame of this great Catholic philanthropist should not be confined to Catholics alone; the non-Catholic world should by knowledge of his great work learn to respect and reverence him.

The name and achievement of Charles Forbes Rene de Montalambert, orator, apostle of liberty, defender of the faith, annalist of the Irish monks of the West, who Christianized and civilized barbaric Europe; historian, writer, friend of O'Connell and a Catholic peer of France, whose work and character commanded the honor and compelled the respect of Europe in the first half of the nineteenth century, sufficiently known to Catholics of today to stir their imagination and challenge emulation.

Begin today to know him.

Frederick Lucas, the companion and co-laborer of the great O'Connell in the first fight for Catholic emancipation, and the founder and editor of that great Catholic organ, the "Tablet"; Windthorst, the liberator of German Catholicism from Prussian oppression, the man who brought Bismarck to his knees and to Canossa, who compelled the reversal of his persecution policies and put an end to the paganizing of education in Germany. Are we sufficiently acquainted with the wonderful work of these great Catholics, ignored in literature by the forces and fanaticisms they fought and conquered?

Has science any more brilliant name in its roster than that of Louis Pasteur, that modest and inflexible Catholic, whose researches and labors revolutionized medicine, industry and agriculture and opened the windows that look out on an unexplored world and showed humanity the secrets of nature, unveiled the mysteries that envelops disease, and whose devotion to religion and undisputed eminence in science have proved an unanswerable refutation of materialism's stale falsehood that the Catholic Church and science were irreconcilably opposed.

The opposition of our church to the propaganda euphemistically termed "Modernism" is not antagonism to science, progress, enlightenment and the advance of civilization, but the new and paganizing influences that are seeking to shake the pillars of authority, to modernize morality by taking the "nots" out of the ten commandments and weakening the bulwarks that have protected the home, made marriage a sacred bond, and that has sought to set up standards of character and conduct at variance with the ancient and unchangeable philosophy of life, without which civilization cannot endure.

So I appeal to this Catholic Union to be up and doing; to call out our lay leadership and our lay organizations to stand loyally and unflinchingly behind the beloved leader who has come back to us to guide and counsel us.

It is for us to renew our allegiance to God and country, to protect and preserve them with courage and devotion, to the end that all who live under the American flag may enjoy every constitutional guaranty without regard to race, creed or color, not as a privilege, but as an inalienable right.

MAYOR EXCHANGES RADIO GREETINGS.

Mayor Curley exchanged Easter radio greeting with Capt. Robert Dollar, chairman of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and a party from the Golden Gate who have been making a commercial and industrial tour of the world.

Captain Dollar is the famous original of the "Cappy Ricks" stories and whose rugged personality has been depicted on the American stage.

The steamer "President Hayes," en route from Gibraltar to Boston, arrived Monday morning and Captain Dollar entertained Mayor Curley and friends at a dinner upon the steamer. The Mayor returned the compliment by entertaining Captain Dollar and a party from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon served at the Copley-Plaza Hotel upon Tuesday, April 22, at one o'clock p. m. The messages are as follows:

VIA RADIO, CAPE RACE.

CAPT. ROBERT DOLLAR, on Board S.S. "President Hayes," en route Gibraltar to Boston:

Upon the anniversary of the world's most beautiful story, Easter Day, sincerely trust that all its manifold blessing may attend you.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

VIA RADIO, CHATHAM, MASS.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, Boston, Mass.:

Heartiest thanks for your kind message. I appreciate your sentiments to the fullest extent and may God shower abundant blessings on you.

ROBERT DOLLAR.

MAVERICK SQUARE TERMINAL.

While work was actually commenced on a small scale in the fall of 1921, it was not until April, 1922, that the Transit Department was authorized to proceed in force. At that time the unemployment situation throughout New England had reached alarming figures, and a large proportion of the unemployed was composed of veterans of the World War. Because of the peculiar construction requirements made necessary by the operation of cars through the tunnel during the entire twenty-four hours of each day, and with a view to reducing the constantly increasing pay roll for soldiers' relief, Mayor Curley issued instructions to have this work done by day labor, the preference to be given to former service men.

Although many of these men were inexperienced in work of this character, within a reasonable time they acquired the necessary knowledge through skillful supervision, and this massive structure has been completed within the time limits, despite the unforeseen construction difficulties and the abnormal weather conditions. Day and night for over two years, crews of men have been engaged in excavating below tide water, removing and relocating water, sewer and gas pipes, telephone and telegraph conduits and electric lighting service without interruption for a moment. Even the night crews have been operating regularly regardless of the fact that over 15,000 charges of dynamite were "shot off" for blasting such sections of the old concrete tunnel as had to be removed. It is a magnificent tribute to the skill of the entire organization that this blasting was accomplished without an accident to life or property.

Some idea of the magnitude of this undertaking may be obtained from the following figures:

About 125,000 cubic yards of material had to be excavated, a great proportion of which was removed from under old buildings which had to be carefully underpinned; 28,000 cubic yards of reinforced concrete were installed which required 42,000 barrels of cement and over 1,000 tons of steel reinforcing rods; 1,800 tons of heavy steel for girders and columns were fabricated and erected and 130,000 feet of saturated fabric for waterproofing the structure, was laid.

The maximum number of men employed at one time was about nine hundred and this included civil engineers, foremen, inspectors, hoisting engineers, firemen, pumpmen, bricklayers, carpenters, plumbers, bracers, ironworkers, machinists, electricians, rodsetters, cement finishers, painters, waterproofers, concrete drillers, laborers and watchmen.

Included in this underground structure is a completely equipped car shop, fitted with all the necessary tools and appliances for making repairs to the cars.

The new steel cars being operated are of the Pullman type, specially designed to fit the size of the tunnel proper, and have three pneumatically controlled doors on each side to facilitate loading and unloading. Platforms throughout the remaining tunnel stations at Atlantic Station, Devonshire, Scollay Under and Bowdoin Square have been raised to meet the new car platform, thereby eliminating the raised step which is a constant source of accident. These cars are 47 feet 3 inches in length and have a maximum carrying capacity of 180 passengers as against 150 in the present type of surface car.

It is estimated by General Manager Dana of the Elevated that the construction of this terminal will increase the capacity of the East Boston Tunnel for passenger traffic about 135 per cent, and will take care of the normal increase in traffic throughout this section for approximately ten years.

The station platforms are 350 feet in length, or of sufficient room for two four-car trains at one time. The surface car platforms are long enough to take four two-car trains. The entire underground structure is approximately 1,600 feet long, 140 feet in width and about 50 feet below the surface of the street.

De Cristofaro & Brothers Company, $1,668; C. Russo, $1,750.40; John Williams & Co., $1,782.25; S. J. Tomasello, $1,905.05; J. Guarino & Co., $1,905.50; C. A. Bassett, $1,929; C. Iacuzzi & Co., $1,964.75; A. D. Daddario, $2,129.25; M. De Sisto Company, $2,194.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 21 the Mayor approved a contract with J. J. Walsh & Co. for furnishing five express bodies, etc. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 17, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to J. J. Walsh & Co. for furnishing five express bodies and closed cabs, windshields, etc., to the Public Works Department, Water Service at $300 each.

This concern has been supplying bodies to the City of Boston and they have been perfectly satisfactory, and I think for the best interests of the city it is desirable to standardize on custom-made bodies. From experience we have found that custom-made bodies last about three times as long as machine-made bodies, and I therefore think it is economy for the city to purchase custom-made bodies.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 21 the Mayor approved a contract with the Sewell Cushion Wheel Company for furnishing the Fire Department ten sets of wheels. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 18, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the Sewell Cushion Wheel Company for furnishing to the Fire Department ten sets of cushion wheels at $500 per set, making total amount of contract $5,000.

All the apparatus of the Fire Department except ten pieces have been equipped with this type of wheel, and they have proven very satisfactory. The Fire Department is therefore anxious to complete the equipment of these ten trucks with Sewell cushion wheels, and for that reason this permission is requested. As this concern is the manufacturer of this type of wheel no advantage would be obtained by publicly advertising for same.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

J. Edward Ogden Company has been granted extension of the time of completion of the contract for two sets of ferry bridge galleys frame and accompanying machinery for the South Ferry from March 14, 1924, to July 1, 1924.

A 4-foot 6-inch and 5-foot circular concrete overflow in Moore street, between a point 80 feet southeast of Cowper street and Coleridge street, in the East Boston district, at an estimated cost of $9,000.

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Planning Board has received from your Honor a copy of the statement by the Finance Commission, dated April 12, addressed to the honorable Committee on Municipal Finance in relation to House Bill No. 240, and to a re-draft of said bill having reference to the program of street widenings submitted to your Honor by the Planning Board. We beg leave to comment to you on the statements in such report as follows:

1. The Finance Commission states that it is not clear whether the problem to be solved is one of congestion caused by freight traffic or by passenger traffic, stating that the solution would be different to meet these two different types of traffic, and suggests that the evidence as to which is the important factor to be dealt with either has not been collected or has not yet been submitted to the authorities for their information.

The statement by the Planning Board, printed in the City Record of December 22, 1923, makes it clear that it is not any one kind of traffic that is creating the congestion in the downtown district of Boston. We quote from this statement as follows:

"An analysis of the traffic congestion in the downtown district has confirmed the City Planning Board in its belief that relief is needed in certain definite directions, i. e.:

"(a) An adequate approach to the Charles River Dam from the business district.

"(b) The further development of Stuart street to reach the business district.

"(c) A better trucking road between the North and South Stations.

"(d) The relief of congestion in the retail district, between Washington and Tremont streets.

"(e) Relief of congestion in the market district."

The above statement makes it clear that the traffic needs of the downtown district involve an approach from the city to the Charles River Dam for all kinds of traffic desiring to enter or to leave the city in this direction; the further development of Stuart street to reach the business district for the same purpose, namely, to serve all kinds of traffic that are led to use Stuart street or adjacent streets as an approach to the city or an exit from the city to the southwest; a better trucking road between the North and South Stations, a need primarily of trucking; relief of congestion in the retail district and in the business district, which involves both trucking and miscellaneous motor traffic in varying proportions according to the portion of the district served; and relief of the congestion in the market district, which is entirely a matter of trucking.

In all these different sections the problem is to get the various classes of traffic to and from the district in all directions. It is impossible to subdivide the traffic problem in the downtown district as between trucking and so-called "pleasure traffic." We believe it is impossible to segregate pleasure traffic, believing it is impossible to determine in any practicable way what traffic might probably be so called, and that the only practicable method to pursue is to provide adequate and properly arranged traffic routes for the handling of the miscellaneous traffic demands which the public will put upon them, and which vary in character not only in different districts, but even in a given street vary greatly in different hours of the day.

2. The Finance Commission refers to the use of small freight tunnels as solution in case the problem is one solely of freight traffic. The thoroughfares proposed are not thoroughfares intended to handle merely through traffic. They are thoroughfares for the handling of an infinite variety of traffic both as to type and as to points of origin and destination, and serve in varying degree every property within the district.

3. The Finance Commission states that the recent experience with Stuart street is not reassuring on account of the fact that the congestion is much worse at the corner of Stuart street and Tremont street than it ever was before the construction of Stuart street. This result is conclusive proof of the contrary and shows that Stuart street is beginning to handle the traffic that it was designed to carry. Stuart street was never intended to stop at Washington street and it is obviously an incomplete street, the result of which would naturally be congestion at its present terminus until the logical continuation of the street is constructed, as contemplated in the City Planning Board's recommendations.

4. The Finance Commission reports that the project is advocated principally by three limited groups—real estate dealers and promoters, the retail stores and the teaming and transportation interests. It is to be regretted that the least enthusiastic section of the community with which the Planning Board has discussed this matter comprises the real estate dealers and promoters, but their sole objection, apart from minor details of location, is the cost of the undertaking. This fear led both the Boston Real Estate Exchange and the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange to advise the Committee on Municipal Finance to delay progress on this work pending further study. They did finally agree on the program covered in the revised draft.

The Finance Commission states that there is little chance of the retail stores in the downtown district bearing any considerable part of the expense of the project, and such part as they do bear will of course be immediately absorbed in the increased price of commodities to the general public. It appears clear to the Planning Board that the cost of this undertaking will in the last analysis and with a fair degree of promptness be transferred to the general public in any event and that the method of financing is merely a matter of equitable distribution of this cost. Any cost reflected in assessments or taxes on real estate will be reflected undoubtedly in rents.

It is also fair to say, however, that the interest of the teaming and transportation element of the community is in the interest of more economical handling of the transportation problem, and that they will not long bear themselves the increased cost of transportation due to poor traffic conditions, and that this cost of not having proper thoroughfares will be as rapidly and completely passed to the general public as the cost of construction of adequate thoroughfares, and such cost would probably equal the cost of the construction of the thoroughfares outlined in less than ten years. It would seem wiser policy for the public to pay for the thoroughfares and have them than to pay repeatedly and do without them.

5. The Finance Commission states that the widening of Tremont street from Arlington square to Stuart street is unnecessary on account of lack of congestion at the present time except at the subway entrance and at Stuart street, and that there are no present or proposed important business houses or freight terminals in this portion of the street. Tremont street from Arlington square westward is 80 or more feet wide, has recently been repaved and should induce traffic to take this route from the center of the city to the southwest.

It is absurd from the point of view of city planning to stop an important thoroughfare of this sort short of its logical termination and continue it with a narrow lane. Boston has been in the habit of doing it, but it would be wise for Boston to begin to lay out its streets even somewhat in advance of their need and not wait until the costs of so doing are so high as to be looked upon as prohibitive. Large new buildings are now in process of construction on both sides of Tremont street near Stuart street and would be induced further out Tremont street if it were of an adequate width. Leaving it in its present condition hampers the logical development of the business section in this direction, and new building operations make it clear that unless it is widened promptly the cost of doing it will be very greatly increased.

6. The Finance Commission opposes the widening of Kneeland street from Washington street to Atlantic avenue on account of lack of traffic demand, and states that quick access to the South Station will be accomplished if the widening already proposed by the Street Commissioners between Tyler and Albany streets is completed. This widening contemplates merely the straightening of the street up to the 50-foot width now established at Harrison avenue. A 50-foot street would at best permit four lines of vehicles between curbs, one moving line in each direction. This is totally inadequate for the service which Kneeland street can and should render the city if it were widened to 80 feet. Present traffic conditions on Kneeland street should not be taken as proof of the need of its widening or otherwise. Traffic is not now induced to use Kneeland street, due to its narrowness and its poor paving. If Kneeland street were widened and well paved it would claim a very large amount of traffic which now congests Beach and Essex streets and would give a logical outlet to the traffic which now seeks the use of Stuart street as an approach to the South Station. This would also relieve Boylston street and the congestion at the corner of Boylston and Tremont streets by removing this traffic much of which now is induced to use Boylston street instead of Stuart street.

7. The Finance Commission opposes the widening of Albany street in order to permit further study of the possibilities of using Harrison avenue and other parallel streets. Tyler and Hudson streets do not cross the railroad tracks and the only approach would be through narrow Curve street. Harrison avenue has an elevated structure on it and Broadway has car lines which interfere with the flow of traffic. Albany street, again, as in the case of Tremont street, is a broad thoroughfare, southwest of Broadway, developed at the expense of the community which, on account of its not being extended to its logical termination, is failing to give adequate return for the investment.

There is no apparent possibility in the immediate future of removing the Boston & Albany freight yards from their present position on Albany street at Kneeland. Albany street should therefore be continued with a sufficient width to permit the present use of the street without interfering with other traffic at this point.

8. The Finance Commission refers to the widening of Merrimac street and of Staniford street and Green street from Causeway street to Cambridge street and Bowdoin square. These are not included in the revised proposal and are left for further study as parts of the completed program in which they are important factors. The revised bill includes merely the beginning of the thoroughfare, giving an approach from the dam along Leverett and Wall streets as far as Causeway street.

The Finance Commission states there is a strong probability that adequate relief can be obtained by other means than these widenings and at much less expense. The Finance Commission also recommends that public hearings should be held either by the City Planning Board or some other agency in order that greater publicity may be had on the proposed project than has been possible thus far.

In regard to the matter of publicity, we beg to point out that the matter has been under continuous discussion since August, 1923, with twenty civic bodies, repeated meetings having been held with duly appointed committees of each body. The conclusions of the Planning Board have also been presented at meetings of most of these bodies for the general information of their members, and in the majority of cases votes not only of the committees but of the organizations themselves have been taken favorable to the City Planning Board's proposal.

The Finance Commission states it has made such study of the project as the short time and limited details available would allow. The City Planning Board made all its data and studies available to the Finance Commission on December 17, 1923, when it wrote to the commission suggesting "that the members of the Finance Commission attend a conference in this office, when all of the studies leading up to this improvement, together with a completed plan, would be laid before them in detail and all possible information placed at their disposal." On February 20, 1924, by special appointment, Mr. Parker went over the entire program at the office of the City Planning Board with Mr. Guy C. Emerson, consulting engineer to the Finance Commission.

We would also quote briefly from a stenographic report of the remarks of the chairman of the Finance Commission at the hearing before the Committee on Municipal Finance regarding not only the necessity for action but as to the satisfactory nature of the solution proposed by the Planning Board. "The necessity, I think, does not need to be argued very much, of relief—whether this be a proper means of doing it or not is another question—the necessity of relief from congestion in that area bounded by the Common and the retail district on the other side of Tremont street down to Scollay square, the financial district, and the market district. That necessity is known to everybody that is at all familiar with Boston.

"I think the study made by the Planning Board is worthy of praise. Mr. Parker's presentation of it was masterly and, as far as that went, which dealt with the necessity and the solving of it, more could not be desired."

Referring, then, to questions of administration and finance and objecting to the possibility of beginning the undertaking a little at a time, Judge Sullivan continued as follows: "It is, therefore, a matter for a special commission to put through, if you are satisfied that the necessity exists—and I do not think you ought to have any question about that if you are satisfied that this is the best route. It is a studied route, it is the only one which has been studied, and I think Mr. Parker made out a splendid case for the Planning Board and for the study." Later he continues, in answer to an inquiry, as follows: "It looks as though it was very carefully thought out and everything was done to avoid, on one side, prohibitory costs and, on the other, taking up arteries and ways which are now serving properties which never can be taken from them and, whatever will be done in connection with them, will simply be adding to the burden which they already had. I think he is entirely sound on that. It is a tremendous proposition. Having gotten over those two points, and the necessity, and that this is probably the best remedy, I thought I was speaking as one of you gentlemen . . . The Planning Board has taken great pains to avoid prohibitive costs. This committee certainly ought to second their efforts in not putting the costs upon the city primarily because that in the end is going to make trouble, and if you are going to make this scheme a reality and done at once—and the need is so great it ought to be done at once—then you ought to have a special committee appointed to take it." Later he continues: "I do not object to the necessity or the remedy, but the method by which it is being done and the way it is to be financed I think is very inadequate. That is the most I can say here."

In answer to a query from Representative Beck in regard to whether the Finance Commission was satisfied as far as the routes as proposed are concerned, Judge Sullivan replied: "Oh, no, we do not take any issue with them . . . I think we can rely entirely and safely upon the Planning Board in that regard."

The City Planning Board has given this general matter of traffic continuous consideration for years, and the thoroughfare improvements proposed at this time have been under continuous consideration with the co-operation of acknowledged experts for ten months. We find no concrete evidence in the statement of the Finance Commission that affects our conclusions in the matter and only the expression of such doubts as might naturally come to the minds of a group of men not trained to the study of such problems and who are not qualified to pass expert judgment upon the solutions offered. The City Planning Board is ready to accept the judgment of the Finance Commission in matters relating to the administration of the financial program involved, but believes that Judge Sullivan was correct in stating to the Committee on Municipal Finance that he could rely entirely and safely upon the Planning Board in regard to the technical details of the street widenings.

Yours very truly,

FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

LECTURE COURSE ENDS.

The season of free Public Library lectures at the Boston Public Library was brought to a close Sunday afternoon, April 20, at 3.30 p. m., by Mr. Gideon's lecture on "The Music of the Passover; A Program for Easter." The speaker elaborated on the links that bind the Jewish celebration of Passover with the Christian festival of Easter.

Members of the Temple Choirs, under Mr. Gideon's direction, sang a comprehensive list of solos and choruses to illustrate.

CONSERVATION BUREAU REPORTS ON MEDICAL RESEARCH WORK.

M. Douglas Flattery, chairman of the Boston Conservation Bureau, has just submitted to Mayor Curley a very interesting progress report of the work accomplished by the special committee on medical research.

The work undertaken under the direction of this committee includes an investigation at local hospitals, which has added to our previous knowledge regarding the prevalence and diagnosis of a so-called "social disease," and other information regarding its nature, its often accidental manner of spread and effective methods of treatment.

Arterio sclerosis, especially as manifested by the untimely degeneration of arteries, is another subject which has been studied intensively at a local hospital under a special subcommittee. There is every reason to believe that these investigations, as formulated, will add to our present knowledge of the prevention of conditions which now contribute so largely to the premature deaths of so many people between the ages of fifty and sixty years of age.

The prevention of blindness and deafness is another subject which has been taken up by the committee. One of the results of its work is a new instrument for the early detection of glaucoma, a condition resulting from obstructed lymph circulation within the eyeball, and which is a frequent cause of blindness.

The work which is about to be undertaken in the Philippines, under the direction of Dr. Richard P. Strong, a member of the committee, has furnished an opportunity at a mere nominal cost, to make at the same time a study of a special phase of pneumonia, which it is hoped may contribute to the information of other investigators who are working in this country in connection with the prevention of our common forms of pneumonia.

In connection with the above mentioned work, the various members of the committee have given of their time and material as well as the work of some of their assistants, from time to time, without any cost of the Bureau, and for this reason the amount of work done and things accomplished have been very great considering the time and expenditure involved, and the community owes them a debt of gratitude.

Since February 1 the committee has made no charges of any kind for office rent, clerical hire, traveling expenses, etc., on account of this work, and it is hoped in the future to continue in the same manner.

MAYOR STARTS FIGHT TO HALT PHONE RATE INCREASES.

Mayor Curley, on April 19, issued the following statement:

"I have this day been informed by the Corporation Counsel that he has found it necessary to assign one of the representatives of the Law Department to the card indexing of complaints received in connection with the protests lodged by the City of Boston against the proposed increase in telephone rates by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"It is my opinion," said the Corporation Counsel, "That when the public become aware of the extent of the proposed increase, which I find as set forth in some of the complaints received, may mean as great an increase as 300 per cent in the cases of certain cities and towns within twenty-five miles of Boston, that there will be such a wave of indignation that the Telephone Company will as a matter of self-defence be obliged to withdraw their proposed increases."

The Mayor also sent the following petition to the Department of Public Utilities:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
April 18, 1924.

To the Department of Public Utilities,
State House, Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN,—Respectfully complains James M. Curley, Mayor of the City of Boston, that all the rates and charges for the telephone service in the City of Boston, as rendered by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, are higher than is consistent with justice and public interest and that all of the rates and charges of said company for telephone service in the City of Boston are unreasonable, discriminatory and unduly high.

And the said James M. Curley, Mayor of said City of Boston, respectfully petitions your department to notify the said New England Telephone and Telegraph Company of this complaint and to give a public hearing thereon, and after said hearings to order such a reduction in the rates and charges for telephone service and such a revision of the rates and charges as it may deem just and proper, and that it will grant such other relief in the premises as may be authorized by law.

And the said James M. Curley, Mayor of the City of Boston, further represents that he is informed that your department proposes on April 23 next to give a public hearing on the petition of said company for a proposed change in schedules, charges and rates for telephone service in the City of Boston; that in view of the petition herein seeking an investigation and public hearing by your department, concerning all rates and charges of the said company, the said James M. Curley requests that the taking effect of said new schedules, rates and charges, as filed by said company with your department, be suspended until such time as the investigation recommended and sought by this petition be completed.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ASSESSMENTS ABATED.

The Mayor has approved the following order of the Board of Street Commissioners:

In the matter of the application for revision of assessment levied on account of the construction of sewerage works the Board of Street Commissioners acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken upon said application:

Ordered, That the amount hereinafter specified, being the annual apportionment of said assessment for the year specified below, be and the same is hereby abated.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.HUGUENOT SUNDAY-AT LIBRARY.

Sunday, April 27, has been designated as Huguenot Sunday, in commemoration of the settlement in New York in 1624 of refugees from Europe.

In the music room at the Boston Public Library are assembled several psalters. To illustrate how the psalmody of the Huguenots has influenced the world, one melody has been especially selected, the tune known as "Old Hundred." This appeared for the first time in connection with Psalm 134 in the French psalter in a metrical version by Beza. It was harmonized by Goudimel and his arrangement is exhibited, as is also one by J. S. Bach who arranged it about one hundred and fifty years later.

This melody is shown in a German version of the psalms set to the French tunes by Martin Opitz in 1640. In Henry Ainsworth's version, the melody appears in connection with Psalm 100, whence its name. Ainsworth's version is the one the Pilgrims brought with them and used at Plymouth for nearly a century. The melody is shown as it appeared in the Bay Psalm Book, in a Dutch version and in a later French version.

Of special interest is a version in English prepared for the Dutch Reformed Church in the United States and published in New York in 1767.

The melody known as "Old Hundred" is without doubt the most widely used sacred tune in the whole world and the exhibition gives just an inkling of the tremendous interest surrounding a tune which is used every Sunday as a matter of course.

MAYOR CURLEY SCORES KU KLUX DEPREDACTIONS AS "MOCKERIES OF CHRIST."

CHALLENGES MEMBERS OF ORDER TO COME OUT INTO SUNLIGHT DURING RINGING ADDRESS BEFORE MALDEN POST 69, AMERICAN LEGION.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address before members of the American Legion Post 69 at Malden, Monday evening, April 21:

The leaders and organizers of this Ku Klux conspiracy are among the meanest and most contemptible elements in American life, recruiting their following among the ignorant and credulous, preaching doctrines abhorrent to the brotherhood of men and the fellowship of communities, substituting treason for loyalty, deriding Christianity and seeking to displace law and the orderly administration of justice, by terrorism, lawlessness and the dicta of secret societies. If continued long enough the Ku Klux Klan, few of whose leaders and members fought for America in the war, can precipitate a state of civil conflict, which will be marked by the activities already in evidence in outlying places, the raiding of homes, the torturing of helpless men and women, the burning of churches and other outrages that cannot long be borne in patience.

Cowardly politicians have condoned the activities of a body whose dishonest and unscrupulous leaders look for their rewards in political preferment and the subscriptions of their gulls; they are willing to jeopardize the common weal to serve their mercenary purposes; and the time has come when the honorable and patriotic elements of America, civil and religious, must take their courage in their hands and unite to crush the evil thing, which is a threat to the peace and prosperity of the United States and a negation of every principal that has made America what it is.

Ku Klux Klanism represents the vilest spirit in American life; it is the organized ingratitude and envy of the basest elements among us; it thrives on falsehood; it mocks Christianity; perverts truth, and capitalizes the weaknesses and fears of credulity and ignorance.

At a time when this Commonwealth was celebrating the heroic events that opened the American Revolution and gave birth to the American republic; when the Christian world was commemorating the tragedy of Calvary and the resurrection of the Founder of Christianity, this treasonable and anti-American body was giving the lie to the suffering and sacrifice of them who died at Concord and Lexington, and by the erection of the insignia of intolerance and lawlessness on the hills of New England, flaming crosses, they were insulting the sacred sensibilities of Christian New England and making a mockery of the crucified Christ.

How long will the honor and self respect of America tolerate the sacrilege and treason of Ku Klux Klanism?

It is whispered that the cowardice and venality of certain elements of constituted authority have enabled this evil spawn of treason and bigotry to creep into the very holy of holies of American liberties and to warp and discredit the administration of justice in its initial functions. Even though certain announced conclusions and indictments give color to this belief, let us hope that it is untrue; for if the people of this city and state should lose faith in the purity and honesty of the wellsprings of law and justice we will have come upon evil days, and upon conditions threatening the integrity of society that call for drastic action.

If the elements that preach treason and advocate the abolition of the guarantees of the Constitution in theory and in fact have gained in part or in whole the control of the machinery of justice, the time has arrived for those who are pledged to the preservation of the American system, who will not stand idly by and see the fruits of their service and sacrifice cast out of doors and the American Constitution and law made delusions and snares, to look to themselves and rebuke the conspirators and the conspiracy. The men who sprang to arms to defend and preserve this republic against a foreign foe will not hesitate to stand as lions in the path of domestic treason and its organized forces.

Let us not be misunderstood. Let our resolution to protect and conserve our liberties at all hazards be told to all and several. Let those who are playing with fire understand the risk they are running, and be told plainly and unmistakably that Americans will not tamely submit to the plots and usurpations of the anti-American traitors and conspirators of the Ku Klux Klan and their wretched political allies.

The days of stealth, nocturnal organization, falsehood and propaganda have given numbers to the Ku Klux Klan and a certain spurious audacity of purpose; the Klan have laid their unholy hands on the altars of liberty and have desecrated them; they have crept into the temple of justice and are attempting to transform it into a den of thieves; and they must soon come blinking from the darkness into the sunlight. There they will find us prepared to meet them; and if they have the courage of their prejudices and perversions the fight will be on; they will either destroy American liberty, or Americans of all shades, colors and races will destroy them.

As the prophets of old cried in the hour of peril, when religion, truth and national safety were threatened, "To your tents, O Israel."

The time for a showdown is here. We are ready to face and meet it, peacefully and lawfully if we may; otherwise if we must. The foes of light and liberty are organized; it is time the friends were mobilized.

"When the call to arms came to the United States, no man asked of him who came forward to defend the flag and country whether he was native born or alien, Catholic or Protestant, Christian or Jew, white or black.

Through the valor of these men who went into the army and navy of the republic, who served and suffered and sacrificed by sea and land, the United States emerged from war triumphant, with democracy safeguarded, militarism defeated, imperialism rebuked, and the principles of free, representative government vindicated; and a grateful people united in honoring the dead who sleep in the soil of France and in hailing them who returned as good and faithful servants, as worthy sons of the greatest republic on earth.

Alien and native, Catholic and Protestant, Gentile and Jew, white and black, baptized in the blood shed for freedom and humanity, emerged from the smoke of battle and returned to our shores, Americans in the highest and noblest significance of that splendid name, Americans by no accident of birth and circumstance, but Americans born into the glorious confraternity of America by service and sacrifice and the gratitude of a people whose principles have been preserved and whose traditions of liberty and justice had been written into the history of humanity by the valor of her sons.

But a worse enemy than the armed hosts of Europe, a meaner and more contemptible foe, inflamed by envy and falsehood, animated by greed and bigotry, embittered by race and religious hatred and handicapped by ignorance, and intolerance, was organizing in the darkness of the night, in the shadows and secret places, to slander and vilify those who had dared all and suffered all for the honor and safety of America. The echoes of the guns of Flanders and the roar of the artillery of the Argonne had scarcely died out and our heroes had returned to take their places in the work of peace, when whispering treason, disguised in fantastic garb, was stealthily forming its ranks to denounce and destroy the men of races and faiths, who had put everything behind them to serve and save the republic. In full view of the human wreckage of war, with full knowledge of the service and sacrifice of the objects of their venom and villification, these creatures of night, laughing at the law, scorning the guarantees of the Constitution, rejecting the teachings of religion and the principles of Americanism, inaugurated a conspiracy of treason and defamation, calculated to divide a united and triumphant nation and precipitate social, civic and religious dissension and distrust among American communities, and bring about conditions dangerous to the peace of America and hazardous to its integrity.

AID TO THE UNEMPLOYED.

Boston one of the first—if not the first—of American cities to open municipal free lodging houses for persons out of work, and temporarily homeless.

Temporary Home (for destitute women and children) opened in 1870; Wayfarers' Lodge (for men), in 1878. Total number of cases of aid to men in year 1921-22, 5,036; of women and children, 1,951. Not more than 5 per cent of men aided have legal settlement in Boston; about 44 per cent are recorded as foreign-born. Work in wood yard required for meals furnished to men.

State Free Employment Office in Boston, established in December, 1906. Number of applications for help recorded in year 1921, 15,729 or 13,432 less than in 1920; number reported filled, 11,734, of which 6,721 were for unskilled labor, 3,842 for skilled labor, 686 for mercantile positions and 485 for office clerks. Weekly average of persons called for by employers, 302. Cost of maintenance in 1921, $30,881.

STATEMENT OF E. MARK SULLIVAN, CORPORATION COUNSEL OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BEFORE THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES, APRIL 23, 1924, RELATIVE TO THE PETITION OF THE NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY FOR ALLOWANCE OF THEIR NEW SCHEDULE OF TELEPHONE RATES.

GENTLEMEN,—As Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston I appear, representing the petition of his Honor Mayor Curley, recently filed with your department. In this petition Mayor Curley and the city government of Boston ask three things:

First.—That the petition of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for increased rates be disallowed for the reason that they are unreasonable, burdensome, unnecessary and discriminatory.

Second.—That there be a general investigation of all the rates and service of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Third.—That no increase in the rates of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company should in any event be allowed until the investigation asked for is had.

The people of New England have been very patient and, in fact, for the most part, very generous toward the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. They took a generous attitude toward the service they received during the last operators' strike. They were tolerant and sympathetic. Through the generous assistance and co-operation of the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts after that strike there was a temporary improvement in the service given, but this improvement was not of long duration.

Since then the service has gone downward while at the same time the company would have its rates go upward. No rate can be reasonable where the service is inadequate and unsatisfactory. In fact, several public utilities' commissions throughout the United States have made adequate service the condition precedent to granting petitions for increased rates. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, long supposed to be the fair-haired child of the Bell Telephone System, has been generously treated by the New England public, but the present condition of things, now too long existing, has rendered it unworthy of further continuance of the generosity and patience which the public has shown toward it.

During the last strike it was apparent that in addition to their service breaking down, the executive management of the company itself was unable to meet the situation. Thereupon they imported into the district from other sections served by the Bell System executives and managers at double and trebled salary cost. No expense incident to fighting the striking operators was too great for this company to pay, and this added expense they would now saddle upon the public. The Mayor of Boston believes that the stockholders of The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company should be made to pay this added and unnecessary expense, which they are charging up to operating costs. During the past ten years the stockholders of this company have enjoyed two permanent increases in their dividends, first from 6 per cent to 7 per cent, and three years ago from 7 per cent to 8 per cent. The last telephone strike, in our opinion, was entirely unnecessary and could have been avoided. It has been said by some persons in high places, who are usually regarded as creditable authority in such matters, that that strike was deliberately precipitated by the company itself in the hope that the unionizing of its employees could forever be done away with.

If the employees of this company unionized it was because of the treatment which they were receiving at the hands of the company. It is not unusual that telephone operators should unionize, but it is peculiarly significant that the operators of this company have a union and that those employed in the contracting department have found it necessary to unionize in order to protect themselves against the exacting and unfair treatment that short-sighted managers of this company are too inclined to mete out to their employees.

At this moment I am holding no brief for the right of this company's employees to unionize, but in the name of the City of Boston and its citizens I do feel well justified in protesting against saddling upon the public, by further increases in telephone rates, the extravagances of the officials of this company.

With a capital stock of $66,000,000, this company has accumulated as a reserve for depreciation the unusual sum of $39,000,000. Ordinarily an accumulation for this purpose of a sum equal to 20 per cent of its capital stock would be considered reasonable. Last year, after distributing among its stockholders an 8 per cent dividend of over $5,000,000, this company was able to add another million of dollars to its reserve for depreciation. But this does not represent all of the profits which a selected class of stockholders of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company enjoy. From 85 to 90 per cent of the stock of this company is owned by the parent company, the Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. To this company it is perpetually required to pay royalties on its telephone sets, that is, the ordinary instruments by which the individual receives or transmits his telephone message.

This royalty is fixed at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of the gross receipts of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company on these sets. This royalty is charged against operating costs and is always figured before the payment of dividends on stock is considered. Such a contract as this by a public utility, existing and operating under a public franchise and by reason of the public, is so unconscionable as to be unconstitutional. On inquiry I believe that this commission would be well justified in ignoring the terms of such a contract in estimating the proper allowances for this company's operating charges.

Public utilities elsewhere have decreed a fair and reasonable royalty on telephone sets similar to those used in New England was 94 cents a year, and in some cases have gone as high as $1.04 a year. The present royalty contract between this company and the Bell Company is an internal and covert arrangement for mulcting the unsuspecting public, and if this investigation is had, which is asked for by the Mayor of Boston, we hope to establish the proposition as I have already stated it.

Another method of defrauding the public, which this company pretends to serve, is their supply contract. Here again a favored set of stockholders of this company are permitted to siphon the money of the public into their own coffers, in addition to the magnificent dividends that are returned to them on their stock. The New England Telephone Company has a contract with the Western Electric Company, which Western Electric Company is owned 100 per cent by the Bell Telephone Company. This contract with the Western Electric Company requires the New England Telephone Company to buy all its supplies, such as wires, cables, telephone directories, paper, etc., from the Western Electric Company on the basis of cost plus 10 per cent. Only the directors of the Western Electric Company and God Almighty Himself know what the real costs of these supplies are, but whatever they are that price plus 10 per cent is the price which this company must pay for them. This is not a new scheme of financial fleecing. It is like the fleas upon the dog's tail, all biting one another ad infinitum:

Each little flea has another little flea upon his tail to bite him.

And so on ad infinitum.

Those who have followed the progress of the affairs of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company have long been interested in the contract work done for it, particularly in the laying of its conduits and certain other construction work, by the Fred T. Ley Company. This company, I am creditably informed, received its early financial backing from certain directors of the American Telephone Company some fifteen years ago. Perhaps this is another way by which a favored group of stockholders of this immediate company or of its parent company increased their personal fortunes at the expense of the public.

There is no reason why this New England Company, which is existing by reason of the grant of the New England States and operating under their franchises, should not be obliged to serve the people with as much honesty as any officer or board of commissioners of this Commonwealth are required to serve the people of our state. These indirect profits are morally no less a larceny from the people of New England because in form of law they are legal than if this mask of virtuous pretext were torn from their faces.

There are throughout the country and in the Canadian provinces a few independent telephone companies, and these companies are able to buy their supplies and equipment from supply companies that are not owned body and soul by the Bell Telephone Company or some one of its subsidiaries. The result is that their supplies are purchased at a more economic figure, and this is one reason why they are able to serve the public adequately and at lower rates.

The present rates of the New England Telephone Company are as high as any, and higher than most of the rates of the big telephone companies throughout the nation. The present rates are higher than the present or even the proposed rates of the New York Company. They are greatly in excess of the rates charged by the independent telephone company which now serves the Province of New Brunswick, and this in spite of the fact that the New England territory, which is served by this company, has the greatest density of population and telephone users of any district throughout the nation.

The wonder to most people will be, on learning this, that their dividends are not much higher than they are. This is explainable on the theory that much of their profits are absorbed by charges over to the parent or allied companies on the one hand and on the other by the inadequacy and inefficiency of their management. Six or seven years ago, I believe it was, our Legislature appropriated $10,000 to meet the expenses of an investigation of telephone rates to be carried on under the direction of the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts. It may be that the department at that time felt that the service which this company was then giving was so adequate that they should be loath to disturb it. In any event I believe the amount so appropriated was inadequate for the task.

The proposed rates should not therefore be allowed until a general investigation into them can be had. In no event should any increase be allowed until the service has been restored to a state of reasonable efficiency. The proposed rates mean an increase of from 50 to 400 per cent. They mean an average increase throughout the district of 300 per cent.

One subtle and insidious way of effecting this increase is by shortening the initial period in toll calls from five minutes to three minutes. To illustrate, we will take the station to station call, that is, where the number only is given in asking for the toll. This short haul business is the greater portion of the toll business of this company and if the new rates, shortening the initial period, are allowed, the estimated increase from this one source would be from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year.

	MINUTES.
	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.
Present 15 cent rate.....			$0 15	$0 20	$0 20
New 15 cent rate.....	$0 15	$0 20	25	30	35
Present 20 cent rate.....			20	25	25
New 20 cent rate.....	20	25	30	35	40
Present 25 cent rate.....			25	30	35
New 25 cent rate.....	25	30	35	40	45

Under the present schedule of rates all calls from person to person, that is, where the tolls is given with the number and person to be reached, the toll charge is the regular station-to-station charge, plus 25 per cent. This additional 25 per cent on station to station charge is at present figured on the next lowest multiple of five. To illustrate, if the station to station charge is 30 cents, then on a person to person call the company adds substantially 25 per cent to the station to station charge. Twenty-five per cent of 30 cents would be 7½ cents. In the proposed rate this would be changed and the 25 per cent to be added to the station to station charge would be the next highest multiple of five, that is 10 cents. In other words, if the station to station charge is 30 cents, in a person to person call the toll would be 35 cents under the present rate. Under the proposed rate the person to person call would be 40 cents.

While the public is interested, and always must be interested in the question of reasonable charges, and will bear with patience even excessive charges, it will not long remain tolerant of inadequate service. We never can hope to have adequate service at the hands of the New England Telephone Company until such time as it is prepared to deal justly with its employees. In view of the fact that it takes time to train a telephone operator, and this must be done at the expense of the company, this is a source of great operating expense that might reasonably be avoided.

The work of a telephone operator is exacting and nerve racking and no operator can be expected to continue long in such employment excepting under the most favorable conditions, and it becomes important both from the standpoint of adequate service and reasonable expense to see to it that experienced and satisfactory operators are retained in the company's employ. To attract intelligent and otherwise suitable persons to this extremely burdensome work of operating telephone switchboards, the company should shorten the hours of daily service and lengthen the period of recreation, and if necessary, increase the salaries of these employees. No telephone operator should be expected to carry on this work beyond the point of reasonable endurance and no woman of sufficient intelligence to handle a modern telephone switchboard adequately will long retain her employment with the company unless she is humanely treated and reasonably compensated.

If the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company shall decide to yield up its covert profits to the Bell Telephone Company to the Western Electric Company and to the Fred T. Ley Company, and pare down in a reasonable degree the annual dividends to its own immediate stockholders, it can afford to employ at adequate salaries and on conditions otherwise attractive that class of persons who will remain with it permanently and be able to serve the public with satisfaction, and without unreasonable and discriminatory rates for inadequate service being charged to the public.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 520.

The Superintendent of Police is hereby directed to make the following details for duty at the presidential primary in this city on Tuesday, April 29, 1924:

1. Three patrolmen for duty in the office of the Board of Election Commissioners, City Hall Annex, on arrival of ballots for presidential primary at about 12 o'clock noon, Monday, April 28, 1924, such detail to continue until all ballots cast at the primary have been returned.

2. An officer of rank above that of sergeant for duty at the City Hall Annex, to supervise the police detail for motor trucks, from 7.30 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 29th inst., until relieved.

3. The necessary number of patrolmen from the several police divisions to attend the several polling places in this city on presidential primary day to preserve order and protect voters in the full exercise of their rights.

4. Two patrolmen from Division 18 to report at office of Board of Election Commissioners at 7 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 29th inst., and there to receive ballot boxes, ballots and other paraphernalia required for the primary in Ward 24, and deliver same on motor vehicle, furnished by the Election Commissioners, to the station house of Division 18.

5. Twenty-five sergeants, one to a motor vehicle, to report at office of the Election Commissioners, City Hall Annex, Court square, at 8 o'clock a. m. (excepting the sergeants for Wards 21 and 23, who will report at 7.30 o'clock a. m.), Tuesday, April 29, 1924; thence to proceed in such vehicle with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., to the several precincts in their respective wards (Ward 24 excepted), and deliver same to the police officer detailed in each precinct.

6. Nine patrolmen from Division 18, one patrolman from Division 19 and one patrolman from Division 17 to report at the station house of Division 18, at 8.30 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, April 29; thence to proceed in a motor vehicle to be provided for the purpose with the ballot boxes and other paraphernalia and distribute the same in the various precincts of Ward 24.

7. One patrolman to each of the two hundred and seventy-four precincts to report at 9 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, April 29, except the patrolmen in

- Ward 1, Precincts 6 to 9 (both inclusive), to report at 8.30 a. m.;
- Ward 20, Precincts 1, 2 and 10, to report at 8.45 a. m.;
- Ward 21, Precincts 1 to 5 (both inclusive), to report at 8.30 a. m.;
- Ward 23, Precincts 1 to 6 (both inclusive), to report at 8.30 a. m.;
- Ward 25, Precinct 2, to report at 8.45 a. m.;
- Ward 26, Precincts 1 to 3 (both inclusive), to report at 8.30 a. m.;

to receive ballot boxes, etc., from sergeants detailed on motor trucks, in such cases provided; such detail to continue until the ballots are counted and the result declared. They are then to bring the ballots and returns to the Election Commissioners' office.

8. Cards with the ward and precinct number and location of voting booth printed thereon have been forwarded to the several police divisions, on which the division commander will write the name, the division number, and the number of the officer detailed at 9 a. m., April 29, at the voting booth of each respective precinct in his division. This card, to be given to the officer so detailed at the voting booth, will be retained in his possession until delivered by him to an employee of the Board of Election Commissioners, who will arrive accompanying a sergeant on motor vehicle from the Election Commissioners' office on the morning of April 29, with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., as hereinbefore stated. This card, when returned by such employee to the office of the Election Commissioners, will be its receipt that the ballot boxes, ballots, etc., have arrived at their proper destination.

9. In the case of Ward 24, such cards, after having been properly filled out by the division commander, will be given to the two patrolmen who are to report at the office of the election commissioners at 7 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 29th inst., as herein stated, and are to be delivered by them to the Election Commissioners on receipt of the ballot boxes, ballots, etc.

10. On receipt by the patrolman from the sergeant, detailed on motor vehicle, as herein provided, of registering ballot box, voting lists and such other documents as may have been received from the Election Commissioners, the patrolman detailed at polling place will deliver same to the warden or clerk of the precinct, allowing no person to take or handle them before such delivery, and hand the key of the registering ballot box to the warden. On delivery of ballots to the warden, the patrolman will take from him a receipt for the ballots, which receipt will be returned to the Election Commissioners.

11. After the warden has opened the box and allowed the election officers and the public to see that it is empty, the box is to be again locked and the key given to the patrolman who is to retain it until after the polls have closed, except that, at the request of the warden, the patrolman may allow him to open the box for the purpose of pressing down the ballots, in order to make room for more ballots, after which the patrolman will see that the box is again locked, and the key returned to the police officer.

12. The patrolman will obtain from the warden copies of poster, which will be sent to the latter, in relation to smoking and the use of liquor in polling places, and post same in conspicuous places where they may be easily read. Tacks will be sent for the purpose.

13. The warden will deliver to the patrolman detailed at the polling place for his use at that place a copy of the descriptive voting list, which must be returned to the warden at the close of the polls.

14. When the polls are opened, the patrolman will mark in the place indicated on the tag attached to the key the figures which the register shows before any ballots are cast.

15. At 8 p. m., Tuesday, April 29, when the polls close, one sergeant will report in each of the twenty-five wards (Ward 24 is excepted), to meet motor vehicle at last point of morning distribution; thence to proceed to each of the several precincts in his respective ward and receive registering ballot box (which must be locked) and key thereof, voting lists envelope, signed by the warden and other election officers, receipts for ballots, unused ballot envelope (containing unused and spoiled ballots), stamps for marking spoiled ballots and receipts for ballots, carry them to the Election Commissioners' office and deliver same to some member of the Board of Election Commissioners.

16. When the polls are closed, the patrolman will mark on the same tag the figures which the register shows after all ballots have been cast. He will then hand the key to the warden, who will open the box and take out all the ballots to be sorted and counted. The warden will then cause the voting lists, including the list used by the police officer, to be sealed up in an envelope and the envelope certified by the signatures of himself and the other election officers, and the same returned to the Election Commissioners, as described in section 15 of this order. The patrolman will not allow this envelope to be put into the ballot box. The sergeant who will report on motor vehicle will keep it about his person until delivery at the office of the Election Commissioners. The unused and spoiled ballots are then to be put in the envelope for unused ballots, and the envelope sealed and certified.

17. When returning from polls, all all motor vehicles must drive to the easterly side of City Hall Annex, Court square, where ballot boxes will be conveyed by chute to the basement.

18. It is important that the patrolman sees that the voting lists envelope is signed by the warden, clerk and all the inspectors. The patrolman will also see that the special book for signatures of voters is returned in the registering ballot box.

19. In case a patrolman is detailed to relieve another after the close of the polls, the commanding officer will see that he is instructed as to the duty of bringing the official returns, box of ballots cast, and the press return to the Election Commissioners' office as soon as they are delivered to him by the election officers.

20. When the ballots have all been counted, the ballots thus counted, tally sheets and nothing else (the ballots to be in their separate party envelopes) shall be placed by the warden in the leatheroid box sent for that purpose, which must be sealed up and signed by all the election officers. The patrolman will particularly see that this box is properly sealed up and that all the election officers have signed their names to the certificate on the box. The patrolman will then bring the box, official return, press return and stamps for marking defective ballots to the City Hall Annex, Court square, and deliver same to the Election Commissioners. The patrolman is directed not to allow the official return or record book to be placed in the leatheroid box.

21. After the close of the polls, a vehicle, to be provided for the purpose, will be sent to the various precincts in Ward 24, to bring police officers with regular ballot boxes, unused ballots, etc., to the station house of Division 18, from which place only two police officers need accompany the motor vehicle with the regular ballot boxes, unused ballots, etc., to the office of the Election Commissioners.

22. While the polls remain open, an officer of rank will visit the polling places in each division at stated intervals, to be designated by the captain, and in case of any disturbance will report the fact to the commanding officer of the station house without delay. If additional men are needed beyond the number available in that division, the officer in charge will communicate immediately with headquarters.

23. Attention is called to the fact that the polls at the presidential primary on Tuesday, April 29, shall open at 10 o'clock a. m. and close at 8 o'clock p. m.

24. Commanding Officers of divisions will see that the officers detailed for duty on presidential primary day are furnished with a copy of the circular issued by the Board of Election Commissioners, entitled: "Instructions to Police Officers on Primary. . . Days."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

CALLS FOR RETURN TO HUSBANDRY AS FOUNDATION OF SUCCESS.

MAYOR CURLEY MAKES ADDRESS BEFORE THE GRANGE MEMBERS OF PLYMOUTH COUNTY.

Mayor Curley, speaking before the Grange members of Plymouth County at the Town Hall, Hanover, Mass., upon the evening of Saturday, April 19, said among other things:

Agriculture is the oldest, most important and most indispensable occupation of mankind; it serves the necessities of humanity, and necessity is the spur of all human labor.

The time was when the plain farmer rather sniffed at the "book farmer," but that day is gone and the best and most necessary friend the farmer has, and the one that solves his problems, relieves his difficulties, explains his troubles and makes his road less difficult to travel is the trained and educated agricultural expert.

The importance and vital necessity of agricultural schools is being better understood and appreciated every day by the farmer himself, and the knowledge and instruction they impart have been the salvation of many countries. Denmark, one of the smallest countries of Europe, with a harsh climate and stubborn soil, has found prosperity and employment by linking agriculture and education. Denmark maintains forty-four agricultural high schools; Scandinavia and Finland, with similar conditions of soil and climate, maintain 115, and yet Massachusetts has only one. These schools and colleges so train the people that the farmer is taught to know and love his trade and to make it a profitable industry. Taken by and large the Danes are the best educated, best trained and most intelligent farmers and dairymen in Europe; their schools unlike ours teach men to love the soil and take pride in it; they have learned how to train harmoniously the mind and hand, while we are giving a species of training that makes the new generation fly from the farm, despise work on the soil and seek the city for employment.

Denmark has solved her problem by making the cultivation of the soil honorable and profitable, and until we do that we shall always face the dangerous problems of deserted farms, congested cities, high prices and industrial unemployment.

The desertion of rural Massachusetts, the idle uncultivated acres and the necessarily high prices of living that are the legitimate fruit of shortage of cheap foods in our local markets react disastrously on the manufacturing industries of the Commonwealth and constitute a serious threat to our industrial future.

Prof. Alexander E. Cance, writing in the April number of "Farm and Garden," says that it costs a worker in Massachusetts from 10 to 14 per cent more to live than in other states and the percentage is on the increase. Wages in New England are higher on this account than elsewhere; and while these higher wages are not of any permanent value to the worker, they do have a serious effect upon the competitive ability of the industries of the Commonwealth and make the continued existence here of such industries increasingly difficult.

The Middle West is a keen competitor of the shoe industry of Massachusetts. The labor cost of shoes worth a million dollars made here is $170,000, while in Missouri it amounts to only $110,000. High food costs are the responsible factor and the producers of food have the question to answer. What is true of the shoe trade is more significantly true of the textile industry in competition with the South, where labor is cheaper because of lack of child labor laws, rents, climate, food supplies and prices.

This is a question of the highest importance to this Commonwealth and the solution of this problem, upon which depends the successful continuance and profitable operation of our industries, demands the most careful consideration of every person and activity in the state. Personally I am of opinion that there must be a real and sympathetic understanding of the farmer's problems—production of crops, machinery to replace and supplement high priced labor, financial facilities to enable him to borrow on reasonable and equitable terms, and the expansion of agricultural education and the multiplication of its instrumentalities. The only way to stop the abandonment of farms is to make them economically profitable and socially attractive.

High prices of farm products in the markets do not mean prosperity for the farmer; moderate prices, greater sales in variety and volume and their certain absorption in our local markets do mean lifting the strain on manufacturing industry.

Marketing methods that will bring the farmer and the consumer in more immediate touch, that will increase the farmer's share and decrease the consumer's by eliminating superfluous middlemen—these must be provided.

The state must provide the funds for these purposes; they will entail no loss on the taxpayers and in solving the farmer's problem they will lighten the taxpayer's burdens. The financial provision to bring about these reforms, cheap loans, easiness in obtaining machinery, fertilizers and farm equipment, and the installation of modern markets and a closer intimacy between producer and consumer, must come from the treasury of the Commonwealth.

When I am Governor, as I will be in 1925, I will give immediate attention to the solution of these problems. I will demand money for the increase in agricultural schools and education, provision for rural credits, and the employment of competent, practical men, trained men not theorists and politicians, to secure results; I have no illusions regarding the value of agriculture, its fundamental character and its vital relation to every form of industry in Massachusetts. The decay of agriculture means the decay of all industry; and I am firmly convinced that the prosperity of the state, the success of its manufacturing industries, the restoration of our commerce, the rehabilitation of the Port of Boston and the general good of the Commonwealth are impossible until agriculture is contented and flourishing.

A well fed body of workers, fed at reasonable prices, are dependent upon an active flourishing agriculture.

A prosperous farmer means a prosperous state, and as Governor of Massachusetts it will be my aim to bring these conditions into existence.

PASSION PLAYERS THANK MAYOR FOR BOSTON'S WELCOME.

Mayor Curley received the following communication on April 21:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Now that we have reached the end of our American tour, which terminates here in Boston, I wish to take this opportunity in behalf of the Oberammergau delegation of thanking you for your sincere efforts and co-operation in making our engagement here a success.

Our visit to your city was indeed a pleasant one. The Hub of the Universe, as your city is called, received us most cordially, and memories will linger long after we return to Oberammergau. Friendships have been made which, we trust, will be lasting.

It is the wish of every member of the Oberammergau delegation that you may some time in the future visit us in our little village. Let me assure you that we will try our best to make your stay a pleasant one, as you have done for us in your city.

With most cordial greetings of good will and friendship and the hope that we may meet again.

Yours very sincerely,

ANTON LANG.

The Mayor sent the following answer:

DEAR MR. LANG,—I am delighted to find in the morning Post your kind and gracious letter thanking me for such courtesy as I was able to extend during the visit of the Oberammergau delegation in Boston.

May I assure you it is a pleasure to express to you the love of our hearts in your success, and I know your visit has accomplished a most important purpose in so far that a very great number of our citizens who had the honor and pleasure of meeting you will certainly visit Oberammergau in days that are to come for the presentation of the immortal Passion Play.

I sincerely trust that you will enjoy a safe and congenial passage home, and desire to extend you a renewed assurance of my highest consideration and regard.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FERRY SERVICE, APRIL 18 TO 21, INCLUSIVE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 14, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have been informed by the chairman of the Transit Commission that the installation of the third rail in the Maverick Square Station of the East Boston tunnel will necessitate the closing of the tunnel to public travel from Friday, April 18, at 8.30 p. m., to Monday, April 21, at 5 a. m.

Upon my recommendation during a previous term as Mayor of Boston the tunnel tolls were abolished, my position upon the question at that time being that the people of East Boston were entitled to the same consideration in the matter of traffic transportation as persons living elsewhere in Boston, and that the tunnel toll constituted an unjust discrimination. I have had no occasion of change my views upon this proposition and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be and he is hereby authorized to permit the free use by foot passengers of the ferry service from Friday, April 18, 1924, at 7.30 p. m., to and including Monday, April 21, 1924, at 5.30 a. m.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ROBERT BRECK BRIGHAM HOSPITAL FOR INCURABLES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 14, 1924.
To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen,—It has been called to my attention that the officers of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables, organized and carried on under the provisions of the will of the late Robert Breck Brigham, have not been using and applying the funds of the estate of the said Robert Breck Brigham and have not been carrying on the hospital known as the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables in accordance with the request and intent of the said Robert Breck Brigham, as contained in his last will.

By the provisions of the will of the said Robert Breck Brigham a corporation was to be organized for the following public charity:

"For the purpose of maintaining an institution for the care and support and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without necessary means of support and are incapable of obtaining a comfortable livelihood by reason of chronic or incurable disease or permanent physical disability."

I am informed that the corporation and its officers are applying and using the income for other purposes inconsistent with and not in keeping with the terms and provisions of the will and are using the funds and the hospital for the treatment of persons who are not suffering from incurable diseases or permanent disability; are maintaining the hospital more for the accommodation of the rich and well-to-do rather than for the city's poor, destitute and chronic sick; and that many of the beds in the hospital are used by people of large means who are recommended to the hospital by staff physicians.

I am further informed that no attempt has been made by the officers of the hospital to carry out the intent of the late Robert Breck Brigham to establish a hospital for the city's destitute and chronic sick who are suffering from incurable diseases or permanent disability.

Any steps to relieve the situation must be taken under the law by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth and I therefore recommend that your honorable body pass the inclosed order so that I may, on behalf of the city government, bring the matter to the attention of the Attorney General and procure the necessary relief in the premises.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston, in City Council.

Whereas, It has been called to the attention of the City Council of the City of Boston that the officers of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables have been misusing and misapplying the funds of the estate of the late Robert Breck Brigham in connection with the hospital established by the trustees under the will of the said late Robert Breck Brigham, said hospital being known as the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables; and

Whereas, The City Council is informed that the said officers of said Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables have not been carrying on the public charity provided for by the terms of the will of the said late Robert Breck Brigham, namely:

"For the purpose of maintaining an institution for the care and support and medical and surgical treatment of those citizens of Boston who are without necessary means of support and are incapable of obtaining a comfortable livelihood by reason of chronic or incurable disease or permanent physical disability."

Now therefore be it ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, for and on behalf of the city government of Boston, request the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to bring an information in equity in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts for the purpose of procuring the proper execution of the public charity directed to be established under the will of the said Robert Breck Brigham, and for the purpose of restraining said corporation and its officers from misusing and misapplying the funds of the estate of said Robert Breck Brigham and the property of the said Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for Incurables, and for such other purposes as may be necessary in the premises for the proper carrying out of the public charity mentioned aforesaid.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF LAND TO PATRICK J. BRADY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 11, 1924.
To the Honorable the City Council:
Gentlemen,—The City of Boston is at present the owner in fee of a certain parcel of land containing six thousand two hundred eighty-one (6,281) square feet of land located at the corner of Washington street and Tower street in the Forest Hills district of the City of Boston, which parcel of land is shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Washington Street, Tower Street, West Roxbury, January 26, 1917, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and the said plan is now on file in the office of said department.

Said land was taken for the purposes of constructing and maintaining a portion of the Stony brook sewerage works. The surface of said land is no longer required by the City of Boston except for the purpose of maintaining and repairing and reconstructing the conduit now contained within said premises.

An advantageous offer of $4,000 has been made by Patrick J. Brady for the use of said premises, and as said Brady is the owner of the adjoining land, and will, if said easement is obtained, be enabled to erect certain structures on the surface of said land which will increase the taxable value of the land he already owns, and be of material benefit to the district, I recommend the accompanying order for your favorable consideration.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston, in City Council.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston to sell at private sale an easement, and the right to use a certain parcel of land situated at the corner of Washington street and Tower street in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, containing six thousand two hundred and eighty-one (6,281) square feet of land, more or less, to Patrick J. Brady, his heirs and assigns, for the sum of four thousand dollars, and to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the City of Boston a deed of said easement in said premises to the said Patrick J. Brady, his heirs and assigns, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston. Said premises are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Washington Street, Tower Street, West Roxbury, January 26, 1917, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and the said plan is on file in the office of said department.

Said easement shall be so limited that the City of Boston and its assigns shall at all times have control of the sewerage works now located in and passing through said premises, and all manholes, coverings and appurtenances thereto belonging, and the right to forever maintain and use said sewerage works as they are now located or may hereafter be located on said premises for all the purposes of a public sewer, and the right of the City of Boston to enter upon said premises or any part thereof at any and all times to maintain, repair, construct or reconstruct said sewerage works, and the said easement shall be limited so that no structure or building shall be placed or erected upon said premises which shall in any way interfere with the use and maintenance of said sewerage works or be placed or rested upon any part thereof, and that no building or structure shall be placed or erected upon said premises which shall interfere with or impede the right of the City of Boston to enter upon the said premises for the purpose of maintaining, repairing, constructing or reconstructing said sewerage works as they are now located or may hereafter be located, and said easement shall be so limited that no building or structure shall be placed or erected upon said premises without the written approval of the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston with the written assent of the Mayor.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PLAYGROUND IN WARD 23.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 14, 1924.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am again submitting for the consideration of the City Council the order rejected by your honorable body on Monday last and making provision for the purchase of land for a playground in Ward 23.

The action in this case taken by the Council was undoubtedly due to insufficient information relative to the project in question. The site was recommended by the Francis Parkman School Parents' Association and also by the City Planning Board. It provides, at a minimum of cost, for a suitable children's playground representing nearly two acres of land in a section of this district where no other area of equal size is available at the present time.

The land in question has been the property of the Poor Clare sisters for many years and this splendid charitable organization being desirous of aiding in the promotion of the health of the children in this section of the city has agreed to dispose of the property at a lower price than the property represents to them.

Under the circumstances, being firmly of the opinion that the action of the Council was due to an error of judgment rather than a sound conclusion reached after mature deliberation and a study of all the facts, I am again submitting the order and trust that your honorable body will approve the same.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $17,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated for the establishment of a playground on Wachusett street, Forest Hills district, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

PROPOSED GAS CONTRACT.

The following communication was received:

Boston, April 11, 1924.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In connection with the proposed contracts for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps in the City of Boston, now before your honorable body, the Finance Commission has recently had conferences with officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

As the result of these conferences a study has been undertaken by the engineers of the Edison Company to determine the possibilities of a change from gas lighting to electric lighting, either in whole or in part, in the territory now lighted by gas lamps.

The Finance Commission expects to receive from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in due time definite information regarding the exact number of gas lamps that it is at present feasible to replace with electric lamps, the cost of such replacement, and the terms under which the Edison Company will undertake the extension of its street lighting system.

The Finance Commission respectfully requests that your honorable body withhold action upon the proposed contract until information is received from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and transmitted to you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman.

The following was also received:

Boston Chamber of Commerce,
April 12, 1924.

To the Honorable the Boston City Council:

At the hearing on street lighting gas contracts held before your honorable body on April 1, 1924, Councillor Watson requested the Boston Chamber of Commerce to submit suggestions for an amendment to the proposed contract that would provide for candle power tests of lamps in actual service on the streets, by means of a portable photometer.

We accordingly submit the inclosed suggestion for an amendment to Section 7 of the specifications of the proposed contract, if same is entered into for any period, long or short. It is similar to provisions found satisfactory in several other cities. The portable photometer has been found to give results that tally very closely with laboratory tests, and it permits lamps to be tested under actual service conditions instead of under essentially ideal laboratory conditions.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS J. KENNY.

SUGGESTED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 7 OF THE SPECIFICATIONS IN THE PROPOSED CONTRACT "FOR EQUIPMENT AND THE LIGHTING AND EXTINGUISHING OF GAS LAMPS FOR THE CITY OF BOSTON." (DOCUMENT 38, 1924.)

(Submitted by the Committee on Public Utilities, Boston Chamber of Commerce, April 12, 1924.)

Strike out section 7 on pages 12 and 13 and substitute the following:

"Section 7. Candle Power. The lamps shall be maintained when in service at not less than sixty (60) horizontal candle power for each lamp.

"The city shall have the right at any time to test lamps furnished under this contract to determine if the minimum candle power is being rendered. Photometric tests may be made of lamps in service on the streets by means of a standard portable photometer and the necessary accessories for measuring candle power emitted in the horizontal direction. The method of testing shall be selected by the Commissioner of Public Works and shall be in accordance with what represents the best method employed elsewhere for this purpose. When candle power tests are made on the streets, the inclosing glass globe and chimney if used shall remain in place around the incandescent element and an allowance made for the absorption of light by the said glassware; with clear glass globes the allowance will be 10 per cent. No change in lamp adjustment will be permitted at the time of testing, but the outer glassware may be cleaned by rubbing with a dry cloth. The measurements for candle power will be made of the full light of the mantle emitted in a horizontal direction without any obstruction other than that of the inclosing glassware as used in service.

"Tests to determine the candle power delivered shall be made on at least 4 per cent of all the lamps in service selected at random, and the number so selected shall be evenly distributed throughout the city and shall be tested in sequence until the proportion of the whole has been tested in any district. The average horizontal candle power determined from said tests of not less than 4 per cent of all lamps in service shall be taken to represent the average candle power delivered by all the lamps in service for the calendar or contract month in which such tests are made. If the average candle power so determined shall fall below the minimum required by this contract, then the contractor shall be paid for that month's service a sum equal to the proportion that the average candle power determined bears to the minimum candle power required, multiplied by 1-12 of the yearly contract price and this amount multiplied by the average number of lamps in service during the month."

Severally referred to the Committee on Finance.

VETO—PENSION FOR MARY E. GRADY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1924.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I beg to return without my approval, order adopted under date of March 31, 1924, by the City Council, providing pension be paid Mary E. Grady, widow of former Fire Commissioner John Grady.

The legal opinion upon which my action in this case is based is attached hereto and the conclusion arrived at, not only by the present Corporation Counsel but by two other former heads of the City of Boston Law Department, permits of no other course.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 16, 1924.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—You have submitted to me for report the following order of the City Council: "Ordered: That an annuity of $600 be allowed and paid to Mary E. Grady, widow of John Grady, a member of the Fire Department, who died on account of injuries received in the performance of his duties; such annuity to continue so long as she remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for the Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities."

The provisions of law authorizing an annuity such as in the present case, are contained in section 2, chapter 107, of the Acts of 1880, as amended by chapter 93 of the Special Acts of 1919, and chapter 68 of the Acts of 1920. The two latter amending statutes merely change the amount that may be granted by the City Council.

Section 2, chapter 107, of the Acts of 1880 is as follows:

"If any member of the said fire department shall die from injuries received while in the discharge of his duties, and shall leave a widow, or, if no widow, any child or children under the age of sixteen years, a sum not exceeding three hundred dollars may be paid by way of annuity to such widow so long as she remains unmarried, or to any such child or children so long as he or they continue under the age of sixteen years, and the board of fire commissioners may from time to time order such annuity to be reduced."

It should be noted that one of the requisites of section 2 is that these "members of the said fire department shall die from injuries received while in the discharge of his duties."

The report of the medical examiner of the Fire Department to the Fire Commissioner concerning the late Chief Grady states that he died of a septic sore throat. He further states that the late chief was a sufferer from bladder and kidney trouble and that it is his opinion that a chronic toxic condition involving the kidneys and bladder was the result of years of exposure in the fire service, ultimately resulting in degenerative changes in his blood vessels and kidneys, for which a change of climate proved unavailing and edema of the throat from sepsis following, which was the immediate cause of his death. This report clearly indicates that the late chief died from a disease rather than an injury.

In my opinion, section 2, chapter 107, of the Acts of 1880 does not apply when the member of the department dies as the result of disease, and must be confined to cases where death followed as a result of injuries received.

Two of my predecessors in office, the late Thomas M. Babson, on December 20, 1909, and Judge Joseph J. Corbett, on July 29, 1912, arrived at the same conclusion.

Mr. Babson in his opinion to the Fire Commissioner, Samuel D. Parker, said:

"The statute under which this pension or annuity is granted does not apply to the widows of persons who died of disease contracted in the discharge of their duties as firemen, but only to widows of persons who received physical injury which resulted in some way in their death."

He further ruled that the statute did not apply to the case of a fireman who died of pneumonia, occasioned by getting wet at a fire.

Judge Corbett in his opinion stated:

"In an effort to provide relief for employees incapacitated by disease, the door would be opened wide to claims of a highly flimsy and litigious character. It is largely a matter of proof. Where there is a change in the physical structure, it is generally possible to show the fact that it occurred in the course of the employment which produced it. Where there is a disease it depends on the statements of the employee and his physician. The question of fact that it was caused by the employment is rarely without doubt.

I am unable to arrive at a conclusion different from that of my predecessors. The present case very clearly indicates that the late chief died as a result of sickness or disease rather than from injuries received in the performance of his duties.

Very truly yours,

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF CITY LAND TO EDISON COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 21, 1924.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a communication from the municipal real estate expert, with an appended communication from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston and the Boston Park Commission.

These communications represent a tender by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in the sum of $32,900 for land owned by the City of Boston and formerly utilized by the Park Department for greenhouse purposes, located at Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street, containing 102,531 square feet.

The price submitted by the Edison Company is the price for which this land was assessed in 1923.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

— 30 State Street,
Boston, April 14, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I inclose herewith communications from the Park Department and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston relative to the purchase of the old greenhouse property on Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street.

The lot which is devoid of buildings contains 102,531 square feet of land.

I believe that the Edison Company should be allowed to purchase at $32,900, the price offered, as it will improve the land in a manner that will benefit the district.

On November 17, 1923, I submitted an appraisal of said property, a copy of which I also inclose.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN BECK.

— 30 State Street,
Boston, November 17, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The greenhouse lot at Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street contains 102,531 square feet of land assessed for $32,400 or 31 cents a square foot, and is worth, in my opinion, about 30 cents a square foot or approximately the assessed value. The lot has no rail facilities and is opposite a large amount of vacant land for which there appears to be little or no demand. It should be sold at public auction at an upset price equal to the assessed value of $32,400.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN BECK.

City of Boston,
Park Department, April 11, 1924.
Mr. John Beck, 30 State Street, Boston:

Dear Sir,—Inclosed please find communication from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, which is self-explanatory. As we have referred this matter to the City Council with recommendation that the place be sold, and as you are handling it as the real estate expert for the city, it is respectfully referred to you for such action as you think necessary.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

70 State Street,
Boston, April 10, 1924.
Park Department of the City of Boston, 33
Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sirs,—This company is planning to erect additional buildings on its service property, Massachusetts avenue, Boston. The location of the buildings will depend somewhat on whether it is able to acquire the greenhouse property (102,531 square feet) on Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street belonging to the city and adjoining the company's property. I understand that the greenhouse property is on the market. If so, the company will be glad to purchase the same for $32,900, which I am informed is the 1923 assessed value, provided it is able to close the transaction before we are obliged to decide definitely on the locations for the new buildings.

Yours very truly,

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY
OF BOSTON, by H. P. HOOD, Superintendent,
Real Estate Department.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction at an upset price of $32,900, a parcel of land on Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street, Dorchester, containing 102,531 square feet, more or less, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

ACCEPTANCE OF ALBERT V. LINCOLN BEQUEST.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 21, 1924.
To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I inclose herewith an order authorizing my assent, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, to a proposed compromise of the will of Alfred V. Lincoln, late of Boston.

The original will as offered for probate provided for gifts to be used for the purpose of planting trees in the Charlestown district of the City of Boston. One clause of the will provided that the city should appropriate a like amount annually to that which would be received under the Lincoln will. The other clause of the will provided that $7,500 should remain in trust for ninety years and the income should be used for the planting of shade trees and the protection of the same on the streets of Charlestown.

The carrying out of the purposes of these gifts would not be feasible and certainly not as beneficial as if the income from the gifts were used for park purposes generally. The proposed compromise accomplishes this result and in the course of years, when the fund accumulates, it will be used in the development of the beauty of the park system of the city, a great public benefaction which may be enjoyed by the citizens of the entire municipality.

I therefore recommend for your favorable consideration the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston, in City Council.

Whereas, Alfred V. Lincoln, late of Boston, died on August 21, 1921, leaving a certain instrument purporting to be his last will and testament, dated the twenty-sixth day of October, nineteen hundred and eighteen, which instrument has been offered for probate in the Probate Court for the County of Suffolk by the executors named therein; and

Whereas, Objection to the probate of said will has been made by Grace S. Hawkes, a child of said Alfred V. Lincoln; and

Whereas, An offer of compromise has been made and has been assented to by all of the parties interested in the provisions of said will, except the City of Boston; and

Whereas, Under the said will, as offered for probate, the following provisions were made for the City of Boston:

1. "Five years after my death I also direct my trustees to pay the following sums.

"To the City of Boston, Massachusetts one thousand (1,000) dollars, the income to be used each year for the planting, protection and care of shade trees to be set out on Cordis street, Charlestown, particularly on the western side."

2. "Ten years after my death, I give to the City of Boston, the sum of seventy-five hundred ($7,500) dollars, the income of which is to be used each and every year for the planting and proper protection from hoodlums of trees on the streets (not on any public squares) of that part of Boston called Charlestown. The above sum is given providing the City of Boston appropriates a like amount each year for the same purpose.

"If the City of Boston does not appropriate a like amount annually then the entire amount of seventy-five hundred ($7,500) is to be divided between the New Hampshire Universalist State Convention, the New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the New Hampshire Baptist Convention, for the same purpose mentioned in the gifts to them respectively hereinabove contained."

3. "Ten years after my death, I direct my trustees to pay to the Charlestown Five Cents Savings Bank the sum of seventy-five hundred ($7,500) dollars, which amount is to be held by them in trust for a period of 90 years, at the end of which time the yearly interest is to be used by trustees appointed by them for planting, care, and protection of shade trees to be planted on the streets (not on any public squares) of that part of Boston called Charlestown, and no part of the above fund is ever to be used for the care or protection of any other trees than those planted by this fund. A metallic tag, properly marked, shall be put on each tree when planted and kept on as long as the tree lives in order to distinguish it from others."

Whereas, By the proposed compromise the above mentioned provisions shall be stricken out and in place thereof the following shall be substituted:

"To the City of Boston the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) to be used for the improvement or maintenance of the public park system in that part of Boston called Charlestown, or in the discretion of the said City for the planting, protection and care of trees on the streets of said Charlestown."

"To the Charlestown Five Cents Savings Bank the sum of seventy-five hundred dollars ($7,500), which amount is to be held by it in trust for a period of ninety (90) years, at the end of which time the yearly interest shall be paid to the City of Boston and shall be used by it for the planting, care and protection of shade trees in that part of Boston called Charlestown, and any portion of said income not so expended shall, in the discretion of the Board of Park Commissioners, be expended for the acquisition, improvement or maintenance of parks in said Boston; preference shall be given to expenditure of said income in the Charlestown District."

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, assent to the above mentioned compromise and that the City of Boston accept the gifts under the terms and conditions provided for in said compromise.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

President DONOGHUE offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston Elevated Railway Trustees be requested to immediately install an escalator in the Bowdoin Square Station.

President DONOGHUE—I think the Elevated Trustees ought to be requested to install an escalator at the Bowdoin Square Station because of the change in the East Boston Tunnel which will dump passengers into Bowdoin square, where they should be treated as well as at Scollay square. Old people will have flights of stairs to climb, and many will be unable to do it. I think such service should be furnished.

ACTION ON APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. BRICKLEY called up unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 14 of constables for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1924, as contained in Document 44.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, only five minutes ago I found out that this was in existence. There are a lot of babies on here, and I think they have a lot of time between now and May 1. If you hold them over it won't do any of them any harm. If I had my say I would hang the whole of them. I think there are a few here that I would like held up, but I don't like to go over them hurriedly. Some of them here who wear the green are almost as bad as those who wouldn't dare wear it. There are none of them who do not step outside. I remember in the Dorchester Court in a rent case one of them was doing more arguing than the people who owned the property. I don't want to get them wrong, but I think that man's name is one of those on here. I would like to verify it however. Of course, there are some here who serve civil process and run for lawyers. There are a few of them here of that type, but there are a lot of others here that would take any other kind of a case. They would take cases for furniture stores, where there had been sales on the installment plan, and all that sort of thing. Some of the type of men on here, in my estimation, should not be confirmed.

Coun. WATSON—Some of them would commit murder too!

Coun. MORIARTY—Yes. One fellow came in here and testified that he carried a two-pound club and carried a gun all the time. I see that his name is still on here. He said that he carried a gun to protect his money. I said, "Have you got the gun with you?" and he said, "Yes," and he said that he had half a dollar in money. I told them what I thought of them when they were here. They were certainly a fine looking lot of hangmen. I wouldn't want to meet them in a lonely place if I had a lot of money. I am afraid that they would use their guns for other purposes. I think, so far as constables are concerned, that they are unnecessary. I think all the serving of process should be done through the sheriff's office instead of giving it to these men, who use their commissions for everything else than the purpose which they are supposed to serve. We are told, "Why are not complaints made about them?" Why, the poor, unfortunate people that they do things to don't know where to go and make complaints, and those who are of foreign birth they use in every way, shape and manner. I suppose, of course, that that is not so of all of them, but it is true of the big percentage of them. People go to the Law Department and make charges against them, but very few of the charges may be proven. Circumstances are sometimes such that it is hard to prove that which is so. I would be satisfied at the present time to have those connected with official positions with the city, with the Animal Rescue League and the Massachusetts S. P. C. A. confirmed, but I think those who are to serve civil process ought to be held up. Let them realize that we have a check upon them. I think two or three years ago we held them up, and I think it was a good thing. I think it made an improvement in some cases, brought about a change in some of the things they had been doing, and I think perhaps if they are held up again for a short while it may improve them some more. I think there can still be a lot of improvement made in the way they do business.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I know at least one gentleman on that list who has not overlooked any bet. I was informed a couple of days ago by my mother that a constable came to the house and had a warrant for my father, who passed away seven months ago. He was ready to collect from anybody in sight. Perhaps this is notice to the gentleman that my father is dead, and he will not try to collect it any more.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President. I move that the names of the constables authorized to serve civil process lie over for one week, and that the Council act on the others.

The motion was carried. The question came on confirmation of the appointment of constables connected with official positions and to serve without bonds, as set forth in City Document No. 44, the list having been submitted to the Council by the Mayor under date of April 14, 1924.

The question came on the confirmation of the names referred to. Committee, Coun. Walsh and Brickley. Whole number of ballots 6; yeas 5, nays 1, and the appointments of constables connected with official positions and to serve without bonds (including those connected with Animal Rescue League and with the Massachusetts S. P. C. A.) were confirmed.

The list of those authorized to serve civil process upon filing of bonds was laid over to the next meeting of the Council.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WALSH moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 4.45 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WATSON, to meet on Monday, April 28, at two o'clock p. m.
